

6 Die As Winds Sweep Western Wisconsin

Four Counties Struck by Wind And Rain Storms Which Injure Many Persons

BUILDINGS ARE WRECKED Telegraph Communications in Storm Area Are Practically All Destroyed

By Associated Press
St. Paul—Six persons were reported dead early Friday afternoon as the result of the terrific rain, wind and hail storm that swept through a part of four counties in western Wisconsin Thursday night.

The revised death list as given in reports up to 1:35 p. m. was as follows:

J. G. Reis of Forest township, St. Croix county, Morris Schultz, in the same section, Ole Saugstad four miles northwest of Prairie Farm, Mrs. Ole Lien, near Prairie Farm, Mrs. J. W. Foster, Arland and Carl Slaw, Northwest of Prairie Farm.

Polk, Barron, Dunn and St. Croix are the counties affected. The storm centering its tenacity in an area radiating from the point where the boundaries of these four counties meet.

Wire communication throughout the affected area was practically prostrated and the meagre reports available definitely accounted for four known dead while from 4 to 6 other deaths were reported in unconfirmed dispatches.

Unofficial estimates placed the injured at 50.

A survey of the affected district Friday indicated that a tornado had struck certain parts.

Farm buildings of probably 100 farms were damaged. In many cases their demolition was complete, and in a number of instances, cattle were killed.

Clear Lake, in the southeastern corner of Polk county, reported considerable damage had been done between that town and Prairie Farm, fourteen miles east of there, and that the storm had extended well to the north of that line.

The storm struck first in Edin Prairie and Emerald township just west of Glenwood City which is in the western part of St. Croix county.

In those two townships, a strip of half mile wide and four miles long was swept by the storm and seven barns and three farm houses knocked from their foundations, with some loss of livestock. No lives were lost, first reports said though several persons were injured.

The storm then apparently started its north and northwestern course, spreading out north of Glenwood City into Dunn county and continuing on its Polk and Barron counties between Clear Lake and Prairie Farm. It seems to have spent its force just southwest of Barron.

Just what damage was done to crops could not be ascertained.

WOULD FORCE PRIEST TO RUN STREET CARS

Madison — The railroad commission Friday received a petition from the city of Green Bay asking that an order be issued to require the Bay Shore street railway to operate its lines. The commission recently refused a request of the company to abandon service.

ROAD CONDITIONS

By Associated Press
Milwaukee — Due to heavy storms the first part of the week, road conditions in Wisconsin have not improved over a week ago. The Milwaukee Journal's tour department in its weekend review reports:

Highway 15 with its two detours is the best route between Milwaukee and Fond du Lac. There is still the detour just outside of Oshkosh on the same route. Highway 55 has four detours between Milwaukee and Fond du Lac and the road generally is in poor condition.

Highway 15 with the detours is still best for Green Bay on account of washouts of 57 north of Brillion.

Highway 17 to Sturgeon Bay is good there being but one detour north of Cleveland. No 78 from Sturgeon Bay to Green Bay is in good condition.

The routes to Waushara and Madison are unchanged over a week ago.

Highway 26 from Sheboygan to Janesville is in rather poor condition. There is a bad detour on 118 between the intersection of 29 and Ju. au. Highway 29 has a rather long detour between Slinger and Hartford, also a poor one between Hustisford and Columbus.

GOVERNOR BLAINE GIVES SIXTEEN MEN PARDONS

Madison — Two absolute pardons and fourteen conditional pardons and commutations of sentence were granted Friday by Gov. J. J. Blaine. The absolute pardons were given Byron Couch, Fond du Lac, serving two years for perjury and E. R. Alcorn, Waushara county serving one year on conviction for obtaining money under false pretenses.

MILWAUKEE WOMAN DIES AFTER LIVING 100 YEARS

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Mrs. Julia Lee Peck, who passed the century mark May 27 last, died Friday at the home of her daughter Mrs. M. L. Lowry here.

With the exception of the last few years Mrs. Peck had led an active life and she attributed her remarkable health to a temperate living schedule. "Early to be and early to rise" was a favorite rule in her life and she spent much of her time out of doors.

It had also been Mrs. Peck's desire to live a century, just as her mother before her had. Her mother was born in 1800 and died in 1900.

SAY OFFICER IS ABLE TO EXPLAIN SHORTAGE

By Associated Press
Madison — Officials of the Wisconsin Union of the American Society of Equity Friday said that a close accounting of the affairs of the Van Dyne Shipping association would show that any discrepancies in the finances of the organization would be traced to losses which could be satisfactorily explained by F. C. Pommerening, present secretary-treasurer.

An audit made at the request of the state department of markets is reported to have disclosed a diversion of $8,400 from the funds of the association.

BAKERS SAID TO BE FIXING BREAD PRICE

Morgan Charges Combine of Three Large Milwaukee
Baking Companies

By Associated Press
Madison — A combination of three Milwaukee baking companies to control the price of bread through southeastern Wisconsin is charged by Attorney General William J. Morgan in an action commenced Friday in Milwaukee circuit court calling for dissolution of the corporations and for a judgment of $5,000.

According to the complaint filed Friday by Attorney General Morgan, the Oswald Jaeger Baking company, the Atlas Bread company and the Carpenter Baking company, all of Milwaukee, have combined in violation of the state anti-trust laws to arbitrarily set a standard price on bread and rolls sold to consumers.

Enormous profits are alleged to have been made by the companies who bake over 80 per cent of the bread in Milwaukee. The Jaeger company with a capital of $100,000 and preferred stock of $50,000 are reported in 1921 to have declared a 100 per cent dividend on common stock, 7 per cent on preferred stock and to have paid profit in the form of salaries to three officers amounting to from $54,000 to $2,000 during the last five years the Atlas Bread company is said to have increased its assets from $84,000 to $400,000 besides paying enormous salaries to officers "all to the detriment of the public". Similar increases in assets of the Carpenter company is reported.

CONGRESS WILL SETTLE SHIPS' LIQUOR QUESTION

Some Hold That U. S. Ships Outside 3 Mile Limit Are Not Subject to Dry Law

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—Congress may prohibit all ships whether they fly the flag of foreign countries or the United States from entering any port of liquor is carried aboard, scaled or otherwise.

This is likely to be the upshot of the quarrel which has arisen over the practice of the United States shipping board in permitting the sale of intoxicants outside the three mile limit in order to meet the competition of foreign ships engaged in the passenger-carrying trade.

The shipping board insists that there is no law or constitutional provision which today prevents an American ship from selling liquor after the three mile limit has been passed. In stead of arguing the legality or illegality of the practice which alone could be determined finally by a supreme court decision, members of congress have begun introducing bills to provide that the proposed ship subsidy shall not apply to any ships selling liquor at sea.

HURT MERCHANT MARINE
Such a proposal it is declared by shipping board officials would be suicidal to the American merchant marine and that no amount of subsidy would enable American ships to compete under those circumstances against foreign vessels. In order to carry on a profitable trade and to get a well balanced merchant marine useful in war as well as peace large ships, known in marine parlance as "capital ships", are necessary as well as freight carriers. These capital ships require considerable passenger traffic annually to keep them going.

If foreign ships can sell liquor outside the three mile limit they will admittedly get most of the passenger trade.

To discriminate against American ships while permitting foreign vessels touching American ports to open their bars at sea is regarded in congress and elsewhere as inequitable and the only way to prevent it would be to forbid foreign ships to touch American territory if they have liquor aboard. This might tend to help American vessels to some extent but already it is pointed out that the advantage of British vessels for they would close their bars after touching at Halifax, transport all their liquor to shore and continue to New York without touching American territory.

AFFECTS PACIFIC SHIPPING
In the trans-Pacific trade, shipping officials think such a proposal would enable American vessels to compete on more or less equal terms with foreign ships. In the Pacific, however, the fear is that American's merchant marine would suffer. Vancouver is not far from Seattle. The American tourist would be tempted to take his boat to Vancouver instead of a United States port. Japanese passenger vessels would continue to carry liquor.

Union Officers Expect Ballots To Favor Strike

Graess Will Not Make Run
For Congress

JUDGE HENRY GRAESS

Green Bay—Judge Henry Graess, judge of the fourteenth judicial circuit Friday formally refused to accept the nomination for congress from the Ninth district of Wisconsin.

Judge Graess, in a formal statement issued Thursday, said there was no popular demand for him to become a candidate for congress and therefore he could see no reason why he should enter the campaign. His statement hinted at an "artificial" demand but he said there was no great public movement for his candidacy.

New Decisions By Board Expected to Add Votes of Three Other Unions

STRIKE SEEMS PROBABLE

Next Wage Cut Expected Will Take $30,000,000 from Railway Expenses Annually

By Associated Press
Cincinnati—Rail union chiefs were considering Friday serving formal notice on the railroad labor board that an overwhelming majority of the 1,225,000 shop craft and maintenance of way employees were voting in favor of a strike on July 1 and that the officers of the union would abide by the decision of the workers.

The notice, in effect, would formally communicate to the board the public statement issued here Thursday night which asserted that the board in ordering wage reductions had "so reduced living standards that the strike becomes an act of self preservation." The statement also blamed the attitude of railroad managers as provocative of a strike.

Decision as to the dispatch of the formal notice to the board was held up by the union leaders, pending receipt of the board's action on further reductions affecting 350,000 station employees, clerks, express, signalmen, stationary firemen and oilers and train dispatchers.

With the more than 500,000 coal miners already on strike, a walkout by railworkers would affect a second of the country's basic industries. No claims have yet been made as to the probable extent of a transportation tie up but as soon as the American Federation of Labor convention closes the rail union executives will leave for Chicago to begin on June 25 a canvass of the strike vote which is expected to be completed by that time.

REPORTS OF LABOR COMMITTEES ARE NOT YET COMPLETE

Executive Council of Federation
Still Considering Coronado Coal Decision

By Associated Press
Cincinnati—While no definite program has been adopted by the American Federation of Labor convention here Friday, all committees were at work on resolutions calling for action by the delegates. President Gompers called the roll of the committees but found few ready with reports and none indicated an early report on any of the more important public questions that were under consideration.

The executive council of the federation also held a meeting for its last perusal of its report on the supreme court decision in the celebrated Coronado coal case, which held labor unions liable for damages under the Sherman anti-trust law. The council decided to propose no program for overcoming the decision, leaving this question for a special policy committee, which is considering a congressional veto of the courts decisions.

BLAINE ATTACKS LIQUOR SENTENCES

Governor Says Rich Can Pay Large Fines While Poor
Can't Go To Jail

Madison—Gov. J. J. Blaine Friday expressed his views on sentences imposed by judges for violation of the prohibition law, in connection with an order issued by him freeing John Rappa, Kenosha, from serving a jail sentence and released him from paying a $100 fine for violating the state enforcement statute.

The governor said that the imposition of heavy fines was "an injustice on the poor, as compared with the man with money, though he may be far the greater offender." Rappa, he said, was too poor to pay his fine and as a consequence was sentenced to jail.

Due to the ease with which moonshine can be made and profit derived from its sale, it is possible," the governor said, "for moonshiners or bootleggers to pay their fines out of these profits while the transgressor of the law who is poor—too poor to pay the fine—must go to jail. He may be the least offender and suffer the greatest punishment."

PIONEER RAILWAY MAN DIES AT JANESVILLE

By Associated Press
Janesville—John C. Fox, 94, reported the oldest employee of the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad and the first fireman on an engine on the Milwaukee to Waushara division, and engineer on the first locomotive into Janesville, died Thursday night at his residence here.

Up to a few months ago he has been in fairly good health. Last year when the officials of the St. Paul road visited Janesville, President Byram and others called on Mr. Fox. Mr. Fox was born in Hanley, Staffordshire, England, July 28, 1827. It was in that country he received his early railroad training, running a coke-burning engine. Previous, he had worked for his father running a winding engine in a mining shaft.

STATE SOCIALIST CONVENTION NOW ON IN MILWAUKEE

Many Milwaukee Leaders Favor Supporting La Follette
for U. S. Senator

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—The socialist state convention, which will nominate a candidate for United States Senator and state officials met in Milwaukee Friday. The sessions are expected to continue two days.

Chief interest centers in the senatorial endorsement. Many of the Milwaukee leaders are said to favor the endorsement of Senator Robert M. La Follette. Whether the state delegates will agree to the abandonment of party solidarity to enlist in the La Follette campaign will not be disclosed until the convention is underway.

If Mr. La Follette is endorsed by the Socialists, it is understood that La Follette Republicans in the fifth district will throw their support to Victor L. Berger, the socialist candidate for congress.

The formulation of a party platform and choice of party officials constitutes other business.

AGED MAN DIES IN DENTIST'S CHAIR

Heart Disease Claims William
Rogers While Dentist
Work With Him

William Rogers, 53, residing at 832 Perry st., died suddenly about 1:30 Friday morning from heart disease while having his teeth treated at the office of Dr. H. K. Pratt, dentist.

Mr. Rogers had not been feeling well for several days and believed the dental work would relieve his trouble. He took a mild anesthetic and revived from this easily. Death followed without warning a few moments later while he was seated in the chair. Efforts to restore consciousness with a lung-pump summoned from the fire department were without effect.

A physician who was summoned pronounced the death due to heart disease induced by shock.

Decedent is survived by his widow three daughters and three sons, Myrtle, Lillian, Mrs. Joseph Deiner, William, Jr., Earl and Claude.

AMERICAN REPORTS TURK ATROCITIES

By Associated Press
Constantinople — Further tales of the persecution of American relief workers in Asia Minor by the Turks are told by J. Herbert Knapp and Bessie Bannerman Murdoch who have arrived here from Ankara.

Mr. Knapp, director of the American committee for relief in the near east, reported to the American authorities that for 18 months he and Miss Murdoch virtually were prisoners in an American orphanage near Elgin, and were not allowed to visit the village or to receive American visitors.

He cited further instances of the deportation of Armenians and said the roads over which they traveled while being driven from place to place are strewn with bodies.

FARMERS WILL BE HELPED

B. M. Smith Sees Many Signs of Improvement in Country's Business

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Recommendation of a continuance of what he termed the intelligent interest which the Wisconsin banker has displayed in the affairs of the farmer and the giving of endorsement to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway project were among the things voiced by B. M. Smith, president of the Wisconsin Bankers association, in his annual address before the twenty-eighth annual convention of that body Friday.

Mr. Smith said, in speaking of conditions brought about by the world war, that "we are not yet out of the woods" but that "we see many signs of improvement". He referred to the better prices of liberty bonds as "those delicate gauges of confidence in our government. But something must take place before we can hope for anything like normal conditions again."

PRAISES FEDERAL RESERVE
President Smith praised the federal system, saying that without it the world war could not have been financed.

"There must be some settlement of the tangled affairs of Europe," Mr. Smith declared. "Germany must be put on her feet and Russia as well when she gets to the end of her experiments of unsound, dishonest government. The only good customer is a thrifty one. Europe is deluged to death with bankrupts. Only when Europe is able to produce can international debt be paid and our products be purchased. The best brains of the world are studying the problems but are handicapped by that foolish destructiveness of class bickering and the appeal to mob psychology rather than economic truth."

"The European situation affects us tremendously and the farmer no less than the manufacturer. For want of foreign markets our surplus of wheat and cotton are a drag on the market."

MARKETS BROUGHT NEARER
"The completion of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway will contribute tremendously to the solution of our present difficulties. With the seaboard brought 1500 miles nearer the source of production, and taking into consideration the reduction of transportation costs, coupled with greater stimulus to production, we will find farmers and manufacturers in a better position to comply with the rest of the world. Let us back up the project as bankers and businessmen, knowing what it will mean in the future years to our country and state."

RULES SHORE LINES OF LAKES PUBLIC PROPERTY

By Associated Press
Madison—The contention of the state that the shore line of inland Wisconsin lakes up to the high water mark is public property, was upheld Friday when the actions against Robert A. Uihlein and Joseph F. Uihlein for obstructing the lake front on their Milwaukee property, were settled by agreement of the defendants to remove obstructions. Attorney General Morgan prosecuted the cases.

2 YEAR OLD BOY INJURED BY FALL OF TWELVE FEET

By Associated Press

By Associated Press
Janesville — In a fit of despondency Henry Thorsen, 45, who with his wife came to Elvian Lake and rented a cottage this week, shot himself near the heart, the bullet passing through his body. Thorsen is at the cottage in a critical condition. His wife was present at the time of the shooting Friday morning.

$2,000,000 FIRE AT LONG ISLAND RESORT

By Associated Press
New York—Firemen Friday were still playing water upon the smoldering ruins that Thursday had been half a square mile of summer dwellings at Arverne, L. I. More than four hundred buildings from summer homes costing $25,000 to little bungalows worth $2,000 and hotels were destroyed, rendering 20,000 persons temporarily homeless. The property damage is estimated at $2,000,000.

Boys' Choir To Give Another Concert Here On Saturday Evening

Making such a tremendous hit when it appeared at Elk Hall Thursday evening that those who heard the program wanted more, the Boys' Choir of Loganport, Ind. has made arrangements for a return concert at Lawrence Memorial chapel at 8:15 Saturday evening. The audience on Thursday evening was more enthusiastic than usual concerning the program presented by the 30 members of the choir, who are boys between the ages of 10 and 16.

Aside from the interesting and entertaining program which the boys present they are an interesting organization of singers. An boy in Loganport who wishes to join the choir tells one of the members about it and he is given a chance to sing before a committee of four of the members who pass on him as a member. Once a boy is a member of the choir he has to work like "sixty" to continue to be a chorister. If he is one minute late for rehearsals which take place at 7:30 Tuesday evening he suspends himself for thirty days. If he misses a meeting without a prior excuse he is out of the choir and can never be reinstated. If he is excused by his parents and then goes to a place of amusement or takes advantage in any way of his excuse he is immediately expelled.

HANDLE OWN FINANCES
The boys handle all their own finances and no organization is ever allowed to make any money from the concert of the boys for any purpose except charity. Charles D. Chase, who is the director of the choir, receives nothing for his services and only assists in the management which is handled by the boys themselves. Each organization which brings the boys to a city agrees to furnish lodging for them who are now making a three weeks tour by auto.

There are 42 in the tour party including Mr. Chase and drivers of the automobiles the use of which was donated to the boys for the tour. The Rev. Bonamin Kendall, father of two of the boys, is also in the party. When the boys reached Appleton Thursday they were taken to a picnic beach for a swim and a picnic supper which was served by wives of the Elks. After the program members of the lodge took them to their homes for the night.

ARE BOY SCOUTS
The program on Saturday evening will be of special interest to Boy Scouts as most of the members of the choir are scouts. While the numbers are interesting to adults children too find the program presented by other children of unusual merit. The choir has a variety of readings and stunts which are interspersed with the musical numbers. Mr. Chase has a method of appointing soloists which is unique. No boy knows before his number that he is to be soloist. Every boy knows every bit of music which is presented either as solos or group numbers.

The boys will sing at Green Bay under the auspices of Judge Henry Graess and the funds will be used to enable less fortunate boys to have a summer outing. The admission to the Saturday night concert here will be free as the one on Thursday evening was. The boys will give additional numbers on Saturday evening. They will leave again Sunday morning for a concert in Oconto on Sunday.

fire." Halemauana is the native name for the active throat of Kilauea and is situated at the center of the pit. Pele to whom is attributed an almost uncontrollable temper takes revenge on those she dislikes by flows of molten lava, according to the story. In the dark days of Hawaiian human sacrifices were offered to appease her anger.

However, scientists unimpressed by the wrath of the goddess in late years have been considering the possibility of harnessing the vast steam and gas discharge and converting it to motive power. It is believed should experiments to this end prove successful power could be furnished to sugar plants within a 15 mile radius.

Wells had just been drilled and boiling cauldrons had been located within 10 feet of the surface when the recent eruption started. Since then it has gained steadily in intensity and is expected to bring a sudden end to the experiments.

NAB MAN HERE FOR THEFT AT DUNDAS

Sheriff Schwartz Thursday took a man in custody on complaint of the sheriff and district attorney of Calumet who charged that he had stolen four automobile tires and a tire pump at Dundas. The man's name is "Jim" Hauser and comes from South Dakota.

The Calumet authorities telephoned to Sheriff Schwartz Thursday afternoon saying that the man was headed for Appleton. A short time after the sheriff located the man on Appleton street by means of his automobile license number. Hauser confessed to having stolen the material and gave up the new change and tubes which he had obtained from an Appleton dealer by trading the stolen articles. Hauser was turned over to the sheriff of Calumet.

48 ALIENS MADE CITIZENS OF U. S. IN CIRCUIT COURT

Satisfactory Hearing is Held Here, Examiner Danielson Says

Forty-eight aliens of Outagamie county were admitted to full citizenship in circuit court Thursday before Judge Edgar V. Werner and United States Naturalization Examiner George N. Danielson of St. Paul and a clerkman. Five women were among those admitted.

The following are Uncle Sam's new subjects:—Frederick W. Kowalek, Albert E. Kresin, Rev. Peter J. Schmalz, Mark Idah Tilly, Mrs. Emeline Tilly, Martha Tilly, Carl Gebheim, Adolph Mau, Carl Torback, Charles J. Schmeier, Ezerentia Weiss, William H. Daminski, Frank R. The following applications were continued:—Jacob Schaefer, Kaukauna. Antone Koenen, Little Chute. George Vanden Laarschot, Kimberlin. Henry Scholte, Kimberlin. Jacob Saffra, Kaukauna. Joseph P. VanBesouw, Kimberlin. Sister Mary Melito, Appleton. Andrew F. Anderson, Oneida. John E. Steel, Kaukauna. Antone Van der Heyden.

Examiner Danielson said the witnesses at this hearing were satisfactory and all except two of the petitioners appeared with the witnesses who signed the applications for them. These two said their witnesses were too busy to appear, but they finally got them in court when the examiner told them that under the rules they must be produced.

No county officers acted as witnesses, having accepted the suggestion of the examiner to refrain from acting as witnesses for petitioners on account of interfering with their work and in many instances not being able to testify as to home conditions of the petitioners.

BEG PARDON

Dea Ridgeway who operates the Appleton News Agency, College ave., said Post-Crescent erred in its story describing his difficulties with E. L. Shovers, Milwaukee, whose arrest he caused on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Shovers, Mr. Ridgeway said, did not sell a paper agency here but demanded $1,000 for permission to sell certain magazines. Mr. Ridgeway since discovered that no payment of any kind was necessary and the arrest followed.

BELIEVE KILAUEA DUE FOR ERUPTION

Great Hawaiian Volcano is Active and Big Blow Off is Feared

Special to The Post-Crescent
Hilo, Hawaii.—It is believed that Kilauea, the great volcano of the Hawaiian Islands, is due for one final and destructive eruption, possibly with large toll of life and then extinction.

In the event that her boiling caldron settles deeper and deeper into the earth, where will it appear next? These are the questions that interest scientists who are closely watching the present eruption, the most serious since the famous outbreak of 1855. Professor T. A. Jagger, director of Kilauea Observatory, is in charge of the observations.

In this present flow the direction of the lava is to the southwestward, directly opposite from previous flows and passing through valuable farmland and valleys. Kilauea Beach appears to be the possible ocean outlet.

Hawaiians venerated in the folklore of their country will tell you that, when Kilauea erupts, Pele, goddess of volcanoes, is again wrathful. Pele, so the legend runs, lost her husband Wabaloa and after various wanderings finally settled in Halemauana, the house of everlasting fire.

WOULD REROUTE HIGHWAY 54 TO FOLLOW RIVER

Stephensville Wants to be on East and West Route Through County

Fifty-nine signers of a petition to have part of state trunk highway No. 54 rerouted were represented by A. F. Appel of Ellington when he appeared before the board of directors of the chamber of commerce at a meeting Thursday evening asking support for the movement.

The petition is addressed to the Wisconsin highway commission and asks that a hearing on this matter be held at or near Stephensville. The directors referred the request for support to the rural affairs committee with instructions that this group give the project thorough study and make recommendations to the directors.

A resolution adopted by the town board of Ellington last January forms the basis for the petition. The document states that there appeared to have been an error in laying out the original highway No. 54 from New London to Shiocton, and that the intention was to have it follow the Wolf river to Stephensville, then turn north to Shiocton.

Residents of the Stephensville locality are anxious to have the highway pass through that place. They say several dangerous grade crossings will be eliminated and that the cost of paving would be less because the river road meets the concrete highway running north of Stephensville. The present highway No. 54 goes northeast from New London to Shiocton and is not quite as long as the other route.

WYOMING PRODUCES MUCH BENTONITE

Cheyenne, Wyo.—Large deposits of bentonite, the claylike substance formed from volcanic ash, used in a process for taking ink from old news papers so that they can again be used, exists in six Wyoming counties, and there are many smaller deposits in other counties.

Due to the lack of a market for bentonite, the state's production has been small, averaging approximately $10,000 worth per year.

C. S. Hill, state commissioner of immigration Thursday night declared Wyoming could supply the world with bentonite for many years.

AGED MAN DROWNS NEAR BEAR CREEK

Feeble-Minded Old Man Wanders From House and Falls in Little Wolf

George Strossenreuther, 78, was drowned in the Little Wolf river on Thursday afternoon near the home of his son, Henry, at West Lebanon. Mr. Strossenreuther who has been making his home with his son has been feeble-minded for several years and required the constant attention of a member of the family. After dinner on Thursday, he told his daughter-in-law that he was going to take a rest and went to his bed room. After a short time the daughter-in-law went into the garden to work. She became worried about the elderly man and returned to the house, but could not find him. Running out doors, she saw him at a distance crossing a held to the river. Before she could reach him, he had fallen in to the river and was drowned.

Funeral services were held from the home Friday afternoon. Interment was in the Lutheran cemetery at Sugar Bush. The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Thomas of Lebanon and Mrs. Henry Steingraber of Maple Creek; three sons, Henry, John and Gustave, all of Lebanon.

AIR REGULATION OF MOTOR BUSES AT HEARING HERE

Bus Owners and Traction Company Officials to be Heard Tonight

A hearing on regulation of motor bus traffic has been called by the street committee of the common council, to be held in the city hall Friday evening. Motorbus owners and officials of the traction company will be given opportunity to present their arguments.

A request for a terminal or parking space was presented by a bus owner to the city council a short time ago and referred to the committee on streets and bridges. Since then the advisability of restricting parking space for all jitney busses has been under discussion. These matters will be aired in Friday night's meeting.

It is also expected that a movement may be inaugurated to regulate the scheduled time of busses that run parallel with street car lines. Mayor Schoetz of Menasha while at the convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities here last week urged that the cities of Appleton, Menasha and Neenah cooperate in a movement that will compel busses to leave at a time other than that of the street cars.

DISCUSS PLAN TO AERATE CITY WATER

The question of installing a system for aerating city water is expected to be again discussed at the meeting of the Appleton Water commission in the city hall Friday afternoon. If the commission decides in favor of the installing the system, A. J. Hall, bacteriologist, may appear before the common council Wednesday evening and present the matter.

If the system is to be installed it should be done before the middle of July. Mr. Hall said. A large begin to develop about that time. From the latter part of July to about the first of October the blue-green vegetation which comes from Lake Winnebago inhabits the water and forms an oil which it does not contaminate the water produces an odor and a film. Acting breaks up the water in fine particles absorbs the oxygen and makes the water more appetizing. Mr. Hall said.

BOARD WILL HEAR TAX KICKS JULY 3

Board of Equalization is Organizing for Equalizing Assessments

The city board of equalization will meet in the council chamber of the city hall July 3 and will be in session for two weeks for hearing and adjustment of complaints pertaining to assessments. Persons who are desirous of learning the amount of their tax assessments are advised to get in touch with the city assessor, A. C. Rule, who is to be found in his office in the city hall Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evening. Anyone who finds cause to dispute his assessment may present his claims before the board of equalization.

The boards of review in towns and villages will hold their meeting beginning July 31 to hear complaints of taxpayers with respect to the amount of assessments. The same advice as to seeing the town or village assessor before the meeting of the board is imparted by John A. Londorf, supervisor of assessors.

CALIEBE BACK FROM VISIT TO EUROPE

Herach Caliebe has returned from a several weeks' tour of Germany. He said he found his boyhood home about the same as he left it 39 years ago. He succeeded in locating several cousins. His immediate relatives are all in the United States.

Mr. Caliebe found the people all employed and so busy they had little time to entertain visitors. All appeared to be well fed and well clothed. In the larger cities Mr. Caliebe found the theatres and cabarets filled and money being spent freely. The people generally he said have a kindly feeling towards the United States.

THE STAGE

"First Love"

The fact that picture playgoers enjoy simple human stories of contemporary American life found ample proof last night at Fischer's Appleton Theatre where "First Love," a Constance Binney picture found most evident favor.

There are no elaborate settings in "First Love." High society with lords ladies and such have no place in its annals. The story concerns Kathleen O'Donnell, a demure and likable young factory girl whose life has been uneventful and very much shielded by her parents. Eventually, however, she has her first beau and because she knows nothing of men she falls head over heels in love with the chap just because he is handsome.

Her parents read the fellow's true character and the father forbids him in the house whereupon the girl indignantly leaves home clinging with dogged loyalty to her ideal. She works herself to exhaustion to lend money to her worthless charmer who has palmed himself off to her as a medical student badly in need of funds to complete his doctor's course.

Of course such contemptible meaness, like murder finally will out and how little Kathleen gets off her side track on to the main line of real love is told in entertaining and dramatic manner.

Reginald Denny in Round number two of "The Leather Pushers" continues to interest you. This round furnishes plenty of comedy and good clean entertainment.

MR. LA FOLLETTE AND THE CONSTITUTION

Among the institutions that Senator La Follette wants to do away with is the supreme court of the United States. Mr. La Follette is greatly incensed at the decision in the Coronado coal case and in the child labor act. The supreme court, he is quoted as saying, has arrogated to itself powers not granted by the constitution. Just what these powers are the senator does not specify. The generality is sufficient for his purpose. It appeals to the pot-hunter whose gun is loaded for plutocrats, regardless of whether it has any merit or not.

Before the American Federation of Labor Mr. La Follette went with his grievances, and press dispatches are to the effect that he advocated before that body a constitutional amendment which would empower congress to set aside supreme court decisions declaring a law unconstitutional by the easy expedient of re-enacting the law. Congress could then violate the constitution as much as it pleased and congress would be the final judge.

Before introducing this happy experiment in irresponsible government, it might be well to inquire of Mr. La Follette why we should have a constitution at all? If the power were to be taken away from the supreme court to interpret the constitution and to say whether laws enacted by congress were or were not in conflict with its provisions, of what good is a constitution? Any act of congress, no matter how crazy or destructive, would be the law of the land by the simple process of double passage. The constitution would be useless, it would be automatically scrapped. The politicians at Washington would be the sole makers of law both statutory and fundamental.

It does not matter to reformers of the La Follette type that the constitution which for a century and a half has been the model for governmental systems throughout the world would be overthrown and chaos and shyster politics substituted in its place. What these demagogues are after is that "the people shall rule," and the wilder the rule the better. If the protection of property went down in a constitutionless country, the rights of the individual would also be engulfed. Government of and by the people would be replaced by government of and by the mob. What was secure one day would be insecure the next.

If Mr. La Follette was correctly and is really in favor of a constitutional amendment which would place congress above the supreme court and the constitution he would seem to have reached the final stage in his evolutionary progress toward the social and political jungle. Of course what Mr. La Follette really is looking for is votes, and it is not a flattering testimonial to the American Federation of Labor that he goes to it with his proposal for the abolishment of the constitution and its guarantees.

SUCCESS VS. FAILURE

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the English actress who was crowned with fame on the British stage and the American, once was sentenced to oblivion by the management of the Adelphi theatre because her voice was weak and her gestures ineffective. Her speaking and acting were unimpressive, and she was notified that on and after two weeks from a certain date her services would not be required.

Before the fortnight had elapsed she had not only been re-engaged at twice the salary which she was getting, but was a popular actress, praised by all the critics. Her artistic reputation had been established by one convincing demonstration of superior ability.

Mrs. Campbell could not have developed from a failure to a success in two weeks. Her voice could not have changed in such a short time. Nor could she in fourteen days have learned how to act. This is the idea that occurs to us.

However, it is probably a fact that the management was correct in its judgment, and that, between the day when she was discharged for incompetency and the evening of her dramatic triumph two weeks later, she did learn how to speak, and gesture, and act. Her misfortune was a crisis which brought out her talent by compelling her to do her very best.

There was one essential, the difference between failure and success, which she mastered. She had the same voice and the same gestures at the end of the fortnight that she had at the beginning, but had found out how to walk and act effectively.

Everybody's experience is pretty much the same as Mrs. Campbell's. The difference between success and failure often is very slight. If we ascertain what that difference is, we are sure to go upward. In Mrs. Campbell's case it probably was emotional spirit, which, when moving her words and gestures, made her voice eloquent and her acting impressive. The thing to do is to see what might improve our efficiency, and then apply it.

UNCLE SAM AS A BOOTLEGGER?

The charge of August A. Busch that the United States is "incomparably the biggest bootlegger in the world" is on the surface true. But there is so much bootlegging beneath the surface it is hard to say whether the government is the greatest violator of the prohibition amendment, or whether the importers which use the underground railway via Florida and Canada will show a larger volume of illicit business.

We can sympathize with Mr. Busch and all the other American brewers and distillers when we draw a mental picture of crowded bars and scurrying bartenders dispensing to thirsts that know no bottom English ales, French wines and Scotch whiskies at popular though lucrative prices, the aforesaid picture being enacted at this minute on United States shipping board vessels plying the high seas. It is enough to salt their saddened eyes with tears and, horror of horrors the proprietor of these bars is none other than Uncle Sam himself. As if to add sentiment and color to the stage setting one of the vessels on which his liquor business especially flourishes has been named "The George Washington."

The poor man in the interior who is forced to put up with near beer and moonshine at a fearful price will be glad to learn that decent whisky and respectable gin may be had on the government's trans-Atlantic liners under the happiest of surroundings. All he has to do is to quit the farm or workshop or the dusty office and hike for Europe on a U. S. shipping board vessel. What if this service has been provided chiefly for the wealthy class, a bar is always democratic and the novelty of the experience would repay the cost.

Mr. Lasker says the government's ships in order to meet competition will continue to serve alcoholic drinks so long as foreign ships are allowed to enter and depart from our shores exercising the same privilege, and there is some force to his argument. It is just as illegal to bring spirituous liquors within the three-mile limit as it would be to sell them, and it does not matter whether the bearer flies the French or American flag. Liquors are contraband wherever found in this land, and the three-mile limit is land for constitutional and sovereign purposes. It would be unlawful to even grow dandelions there in quantities.

Mr. Lasker says that Mr. Busch is trying to discredit prohibition. He is mistaken. It is the government which is discrediting prohibition. Mr. Busch's sense of ethics is disturbed, that is all. If Uncle Sam knew how much money there was in the prescription business he would not be satisfied with operating floating bars. Mr. Mellon's deficits would be wiped out with the profits and everyone would be happy, for doubtless the price of prescriptions could be lowered under government monopoly.

Without a doubt bootlegging is the most profitable industry in the United States and it is tax exempt. The shipping board may be the last, but it is not the least to find it out. Congress ought to vote Mr. Lasker a gold stein or some sort of a trophy as a token of appreciation. He is pointing the way to a return to fiscal normalcy. Now if the government will operate a fleet of prairie schooners in the same manner we shall be invincible on land as well as sea, and prohibition will be an unmitigated success.

TIME TO TRAIN FOR YOUR VACATION

The annual vacation habit which appears to be increasing alarmingly in America, would perhaps bring a less serious strain upon health and endurance if folks addicted to the habit made some little endeavor to condition themselves in advance. As it is the casualties are something appalling, and from the time when the early vacationists come tottering home around the calends of July, low-eyed nervous wrecks, to the last forlorn stretcher party bearing the latest word in typhoid about the idea of October, doctors simply can't spare an opportunity to slip away and make fools of themselves.

There is something strangely perverse and wrong about the vacation habit, for almost invariably the individual who needs a vacation most gets none at all and those who are only injured and made less useful, if possible, by such an interruption get a long one each year with full pay and the world's blessing. Take mother, for example. I mean the mother who mothers her own children and keeps her own house instead of hiring some one to substitute for her. Who ever heard of mother getting a vacation? Why, it isn't done. When it comes to the question of a vacation for mother, the whole family is one with me on the unwisdom of any such interruption of the ordinary routine. Everybody vacates recklessly enough at our house but mother—we keep mother at home on the job for the good of her health, you understand. She ought to be glad of the chance—don't we furnish her twenty-one meals a week the year round?

But mother aside, and speaking seriously now, any one purposing to risk a vacation should take certain sound precautions for the protection of his health. If it is to be an orgy of swimming, hiking, tennis or other strenuous sports, the prospective vacationist should begin at least six weeks in advance to train by regular daily exercise gradually increased and by daily walks over gradually increasing distances. This should include also a gradually increasing exposure to the sun, as prevention of sunburn. One not accustomed to exposure should begin with periods of not more than five minutes of direct exposure, three times a day, and increase the duration of the periods five minutes each succeeding day. If something like this were the rule, we doctors would not reap such a huge harvest treating wicked sunburn, because the skin would be gradually tanned, not burned, and thus made insensitive to long exposure.

The menace of typhoid still pursues the vacation-mad traveller, not only in polluted drinking water, but in various fresh vegetables washed with polluted water, and in all kinds of food, raw or cooked, which has been handled by a person who is, perhaps unwittingly, a carrier of typhoid bacilli. So far as danger from drinking water is concerned every vacationist may protect himself in either of two ways, namely, by boiling all water before drinking, or by dissolving in each quart a halazone tablet to disinfect it. Halazone is a chlorine compound especially prepared for this purpose and purchasable from druggists everywhere. For protection against the other sources of typhoid fever there is but one resort—to be immunized by your physician before you leave home.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Small Pox and Tuberculosis

Is small pox more dangerous for a person having tuberculosis? Would you advise a tuberculosis person to be vaccinated? L. A. J.

Answer—Yes.

No Gloom Dispensed Here

Six months ago I had pneumonia. Two months ago I had bronchitis. I do not gain much strength. Only a little cough. Do you think there is danger of tuberculosis? Mrs. M. N.

Answer—If I had reason to think so I certainly would not say so here, because that would do you no possible good. My dear madam, do not trifle with your health. Have your physician's advice.

A Dog's Sad Life

A friend of mine has two pink eyed dogs which she washes in the family bath tub. Is it dangerous for human beings to use the same tub afterwards, even tho it has been well cleaned? C. W.

Answer—I can't say that it is more dangerous to use the tub after the dog than it is to use it after a human being has bathed in it. But I do sympathize with the dogs.

(Title Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

CHANGED METHODS EXPECTED TO FOLLOW COURT DECISION

The statement by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor that the decision of the Supreme Court in the Coronado case, made only after nearly a week's reflection and study of the working of the decree that it was the "worst blow" ever administered, to labor in America seems to have puzzled the editors. They discuss the decision, and the Gompers attitude, at great length. Many of the editors take a sharply opposing attitude to that of Mr. Gompers. The fact that a rehearing will be given by the Supreme Court next Fall is admitted to be "intereasty."

"Why would it not be wiser for labor to take itself under the protection of the law instead of persisting in remaining without," the New York EVENING WORLD asks, "and by incorporation, by the establishment of courts of labor, the codifying of labor laws, enjoy the benefits for which it already pays and from which, by its own policy, it receives the least return?" In the opinion of the Chicago DAILY NEWS, the decision works no hardship on labor because "no union that acts within the law and exercises its legal and moral rights with proper regard for the rights of others has any occasion to deplore the verdict." Naturally the decision is for reaching and "both hurts and helps organized labor," the Washington STAR points out as it "puts the labor organizations upon the same basis as commercial corporations. With this ruling standing as the fundamental law it is difficult to see how legislative exemptions can be effected. The broad effect of this decision is likely to be in restraint of strikes which may develop into lawlessness and destructiveness."

That the "only rights," taken away from labor are those which make for broken agreements and violence is the view of the Durham SUN which attacks the "conservatism" of Mr. Gompers insisting that this would be "high comedy if it were not for the grave fact that where other labor leaders are concerned Gompers is completely so describing himself." One result of the decision, the Richmond NEWS LEADER points out, will be that "a fight in Congress rather than a great movement to incorporate may be expected. By the time the Coronado decision has been interpreted, according to the prejudices and sympathies of different tribunals, its sharpness will have been dulled." The fact that the decision was by a unanimous court emphasizes its importance, the Baltimore SUN believes, and it points out that the moral is "that it will be wise for both employers and employees to hew as closely to the line of equity and fairness as it is humanly possible considering the strained relations between them."

There is no denying that the decision will bring organized labor "face to face with the necessity of reviewing its policies and determining anew its course of action," the Springfield REPUBLICAN asserts. "It would certainly be going much too far to say that the decision is a death blow to effective labor unionism." In addition, admitting that, "capital has not always treated labor according to the Golden Rule," the Wall Street JOURNAL asserts that "the who destroys property of another must pay the damages. The decision has taken a long step forward in holding that associations also are liable for their acts." Summed up, the Newark EVENING NEWS points out that "the ruling thus restates organized labor's relationship to society in general, which is pronounced just as responsible as it is privileged. How can it be otherwise?"

Labor can gain little from attacking the decision in the view of the New York POST which holds that "the constructive course for labor is to accept the situation as it is and to urge new legislation more carefully drawn, which will determine an equity of status, rights and responsibilities for groups on both sides." To this contention the New York GLOBE assents, insisting that "Congress ought to arouse itself to the situation. In this case at least it has surrendered the initiative to the Supreme Court largely because it lacked the courage and the insight requisite to action." However the Philadelphia BULLETIN believes that the decision is "by no means one sided, and a careful and unprejudiced study will disclose the advantage of disadvantage in the denial of its immunity from the fundamental law of equity."

The mandate "is one of those occasional decisions which mark milestones in the history of American constitutional law," the Roanoke WORLD NEWS points out altho "it settles nothing in any permanent way. Rather would it seem to mark the beginning of new efforts to revise antitrust laws. The most important immediate result of the decision will probably be that of placing some further restraint, and much needed restraint, on labor organizations at a time when disastrous national strikes are threatened." The Supreme Court also has decreed "equality under the law," the Columbus STATE JOURNAL holds in approving this country, because "the population of the country is not made up of capitalists and laborers, of farmers and storekeepers, of professional men and business men, but of citizens all with equal rights and duties under the law." Summed up the decision also, the St. Louis POST DISPATCH says, provides that labor unions "must answer to the law," while still another effect, in the opinion of the Mobile REGISTER, is "to place concerted strikes under the ban whenever such strikes operate to cripple the industry or industries in which they occur."

Only unlawful acts are thus placed "under the ban" by the decree, the Wilkesbarre RECORD is convinced, and if labor unions retain themselves "they will not come in conflict with law and they will not be forced out of existence," while the Adrian TELEGRAM believes that "most of their objects and actions are perfectly lawful. When the parties to a dispute pass the bounds of legality, then both alike should be subjected to the same law in the same manner. A conspiracy in restraint of trade is identically the same in nature whether committed by organizations of employers or employees, and violence is no more tolerable from one side than from the other." Because of this very fact the Waterloo TRIBUNE holds that "this decision is not a blow at unionism. It is a plain matter of the protection of the rights of mankind."

TRAVELING IN ITALY

Venice—Exactly how much does it cost to travel in Italy, if one is economical and reasonably resourceful? Otherwise put, for how little can a person of moderate means enjoy an Italian holiday?

The answer is, from five dollars a day up, excluding railway fares which will be more or less according to whether you make long stops in the same place or jump rapidly from city to city.

The minimum of five dollars does not include much in the way of entertainment, of course. It does not take in opera tickets, boat rides or cab drives. It is the strictly necessary expense for room and meals, with little leeway for unavoidable extras like tips, porters, street-car and bus-fares, and occasional cab transportation when necessary. These incidentals, with the most careful management, cannot average much less than a dollar a day.

On the other hand, the leisurely voyager who is not bent on seeing all Italy in a fortnight, may be able to cut his room and board below the $4 daily which I have allowed, and thus have considerable more distractions without adding to his total expenditure. If you stay a week or two in a place you can get "pension" rates, including room and board and service, for $2.00 a day almost anywhere in Italy. There will be extras on the bill, such as taxes laundry and bath, which will bring it close up to $3. Here is a dollar a day saved to our original estimate, which will go a certain distance toward adding to the enjoyment of the trip.

Of course these prices do not apply to resort places, such as the seashore or the lakes, where the season is short and prices in accordance. But I assume that the traveller from America coming for a first trip will not include such places in his itinerary.

Railroad fares are based on a rate of about 1/2 lira per mile (not quite three cents) in second class. First class costs about 60 percent more. There is slightly lower tariff for locals. By all means dispense with trunk and other "registered luggage." Such incumbrances mean getting out of the train and going to the baggage car at every frontier (often in the middle of the night). They mean that while other travelers are blithely on their way to their hotels, you with a trunk to look after are held up at the station identifying it and arranging for its transportation to your lodgings. Trunks are always going astray or being stolen, and are in a hundred ways a nuisance and source of annoyance.

European trains are generously equipped with racks for hand baggage, and porters are usually plentiful in stations. Pack your belongings into a couple of large suitcases or hold-alls and be free of worry.

The need of clean clothes is readily met by laundry facilities offered in nearly all hotels.

A traveling (steamer) blanket, however, is of service in land traveling as well as on the boat.

PROXY, MARRIAGE PERPLEXES

London.—The Paris correspondent of the Evening Mail says:

A mistake on the part of an official at the Mairie at Toulon has led to a Gilberton situation.

A woman with the Christian name of Marie Josephine applied for documents for the purpose of getting married.

The clerk issued papers in the name of Marie Ross, a woman of the same surname, who was born the same year. No one noticed the mistake and the marriage took place.

In her turn Mrs. Marie Ross wished to get married but on applying for the documents was told to her surprise that she was already married. The intimation came as such a shock she fainted.

The point to be decided by the authorities, says the Exchange, is who of the two women is married.

Pending the ruling as to the bigamy laws, any further marriage ceremonies between the parties have been forbidden.

We Eat Too Much

WE EAT TOO MUCH 2 Col head
Leading German doctors grab their pill satchels and rush to Lenin, who is bothered lately by acute gastritis.

This means, that at some time or other Lenin has abused his stomach. A hyperthyroid of his type usually eats too much, in the attempt to generate excessive energy.

Three fourths of our sickness is due to what we eat. Many health rules in this world. The best is: Find out what foods do not agree with you. Then never touch them. One man's meat is another man's poison. Good rule for Lenin—for all of us. Sawyer, physician to President Harding, predicts that future doctors will be paid for keeping people well rather than for caring for them when they are sick.

That is the Chinese system. Over there, the doctor is paid so much a day as long as the patient is well. On days when the patient is sick, Doc gets no pay, which gives Doc an incentive to do his work thoroughly and not overbook any bets.

It wouldn't work in our country, where people usually stay away from the doctor until they are afraid of making the undertaker's acquaintance. We cure, the Chinese prevent.

TOO MANY NERVES
A jail prisoner in New York is found dead and his cellmate tells police that he beat him to death because "He was making too much noise and I wanted to sleep."

Some of the rest of us have had a similar impulse on such occasions as when a neighbor plays his phonograph "after hours."

How much worse is the actual deed than committing a crime or transacting evil mentally?

BREECHES

Democracy is saved. Ambassador Harvey discards the plush "knee pants" which he has been wearing at English court functions.

Hereafter he will perform in regular execution in the American Army? C. C. H.

A. A conspiracy of the British of-ficials and Loyalists of New York was made in 1773 to end the Revolutionary War by the murder or capture of its leaders, and the seizure or destruction of its supplies. Washington was to be taken alive and delivered to Sir William Howe. Two guards were bribed, but a third pretended to join the plot and exposed it instead. One of the treacherous guards was named Thomas Hickey. He was hanged June 27, 1776. The first military execution in the American army.

Q. Is Heligoland still a fort? S. K.

A. Under the Treaty of Versailles Germany was required to dismantle the Heligoland fortifications.

Q. What is the significance of the phrase "with intent" so often used in legal documents? C. L. W.

Q. What is the significance of the phrase "with intent" so often used in legal documents? C. L. W.

A. As to intention, the law presumes every person to intend that which follows as a natural consequence of his act.

Q. Whose bones are preserved in the Chapel of Bones in Cologne? J. W. C.

A. St. Ursula, in that city contains the bones of 11,000 English virgins massacred there while on a pilgrimage to Rome. They are preserved in cases placed around the church. The Church of St. Gereon, also in Cologne is dedicated to the martyrs of the Twelfth legend. The skulls and bones of martyrs are arranged along the sides of the choir.

Q. What manager of a baseball team in the American League has served the longest time? E. D.

A. Connie Mack is the only manager in the League who has been with it since its formation in 1900. He left the Milwaukee Club for the Philadelphia Athletics when that club obtained its franchise.

Q. When was the first military

Q. Do some animals hibernate in summer? J. V. K.

A. The word hibernate carries the idea of winter. Such tropical creatures as alligators, snakes and certain mammals and insects undergo a period of torpor during the hot, dry season when food is scarce and vegetation is taking a rest. This is known as aestivation.

Q. What will keep piano keys from turning yellow? E. D.

A. Keeping the piano open is the best preventive and the best remedy.

Q. Why is a furlong so named? R. E.

A. The furlong, or 220 yards, originally meant the length of a furrow. It was supposed to be the distance oxen could plow without stopping to rest.

Q. What is the difference between an heir presumptive and an heir apparent? E. H.

A. When an owner has no children an heir presumptive is one who will be his heir as elder son of a deceased brother in England, or all the children of a dead brother in the United States, for they will be heirs if he dies without issue. An heir apparent is one who must be the heir if he survives the owner, as the eldest son in Great Britain, or all the children in this country.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and runs it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

LODGE NEWS

LADIES NIGHT PARTY

First "Ladies Night" at Waverly beach Thursday evening was a huge success, between four and five hundred ladies attending. Ladies night will be observed every Thursday evening. A "Silver dollar" party will be held Saturday night.

WOMEN MEN ADMIRE

Men admire a pretty face, a good figure, but more than all a buoyant disposition and the charm of happy content. There is no question but what a light-hearted woman is the joy of a man's life, but no woman can be happy and joyful when dragged down by the ailments that so often develop headaches, backache, nervousness and "the blues."

We are continually publishing in this paper letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after doctors and other medicines have failed to help them. If you are ill why not give it a trial.

For the JUNE BRIDE

June is the month when the happy bride promises to "Love, Honor and Obey." Just what reservation she may make when she reaches the word "Obey," none can tell, but with the June sun shining upon her nuptials, and her outfit bought at this store, none can deny that she is starting on her marital career with every prospect of happiness.

The finest word in the English language for the bride is "Trousseau," although it is French and not English at all. But the word suggests buying at this store, where everything is at its best in point of quality, variety and economy of price.

REPAIRING STREETS DAMAGED BY STORM

Tarvia Pavement Will be Completed When Washouts Are Filled in

Kaukauna—Streets that were damaged during the rain last Saturday are being repaired as rapidly as possible. In some places the entire road bed was washed down, making it necessary to do considerable hauling of large rocks which were placed as a base for the crushed stone. On the failure of oil tanks to arrive, due to washouts on the railroad. The usual spring oiling program had been started just before the storm. Approximately 30,000 gallons of oil were contracted for to be used on the streets.
After the damaged streets had been repaired the final work on the tarvia pavement will be done. The top coating of tarvia was not applied last fall. Preparations for the annual sewer program are also being made by the city. Plans for the work now are at Madison where they are being studied by the board of health and upon their return the work will be started.
The plans call for the installation of 4,451 feet of 12 inch pipe and 771 feet of 10 inch pipe.

YOUNG MEN ENJOY EVENING BASEBALL

Kaukauna—There is a vague rumor that competition with Manager Braunstein's baseball team of the Fox River Valley league is developing on Second street, just beyond the railroad Y M C A. where traffic is unknown. The rumor may be a bit wild but it is a fact that an excellent brand of baseball is being played every evening. Two teams consisting of young men who work during the day line up each evening and enjoy themselves by engaging in the national pastime.
The catching staff for either side seems to have developed most for it is not unusual to finish a game in which only two or three hits have been earned. Thursday's game ended by a score of 3 to 1. The winning side getting five safeties, the most made for several days.
Contrary to the usual method of play, these evening games do not end in unning but when there is not enough of the ball left to play with. "A ball a day" is the slogan and a collection for the next day's ball is taken each evening.

BIJOU THEATRE REPAIRS ARE ALMOST COMPLETE

Kaukauna—Extensive repairs are being completed on the Bijou theatre on the north side. A new machine has been installed and the projection room now is equipped with two motion picture machines so that an entire show can be given without a break. The front has been remodeled into an attractive looking entrance. Two large suction fans have been installed in the rear of the house.
A picture entitled "Open Your Eyes" is being shown Friday and Saturday evenings.

Kaukauna baseball game. Mr. Flanagan played with Kaukauna.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rossey, Abner Thebo and Loretta and Marie Brice attended the dance at Weyauwega Friday evening.

SERVICE MEN URGED TO ATTEND MEETING

Kaukauna—A meeting of all former service men in this city, whether members of the legion, will be held Tuesday evening in Elk hall. Efforts are being made to secure a large attendance in order to stimulate a greater interest in the work of the legion. A meeting was called a few weeks ago and only a few responded. A business session will be held and a discussion regarding the soldiers bonus will be taken up. A social hour will be held.

PROWLERS BREAK INTO NORTHWESTERN DEPOT

Kaukauna—Unidentified prowlers entered the north side Chicago Northwestern depot between 7 and 8 o'clock Wednesday night but thus far investigation disclosed nothing missing. Entrance was gained by smashing in a door of the men's waiting room and then repeating the act on the door at the rear of the ticket office. Persons seated on the front porch of a dwelling near the depot did not hear the sounds that would suggest that a door was being broken in but did hear the ticking of the telegraph instruments.

RAINS REVIVING BATTLE OVER HIGH WATER IN RIVER

Riparian Owners Protest Restoring Flushboards on Neenah Dam

Since gates have been opened on the Neenah dam and promises have been made that more will be opened if it is found that the government works on the lower Fox river will not be further endangered.

A telegram had been sent earlier in the week by Alvan H. Tripp, president of the Association for Relief of High Water to Maj. F. S. Skinner, government engineer at Milwaukee, stating that the upper Fox River valley is menaced by high water almost as seriously as in April, and asking that relief measures be taken. Water at Gills Landing was reported at 6 feet 6 inches, rising three and a half feet in three days. Six feet is considered the danger mark when it is desired that sluicing start and when water is likely to flood riparian land.

Charles Gear of Menasha, member of the executive committee of the relief association, has protested against replacing the flushboards at the Neenah dam which were washed off by the ice last winter. The government asserts that the absence of the flushboards means a discharge of 25 per cent more water than shown by any previous record. Mr. Gear claims that the flushboards on the Neenah dam make that barrier 13 inches higher than the Menasha dam. Water power interests have asked that the flushboards be restored on the claim that they do not raise the level and that they mean a saving of $130,000 annually in coal consumption.

Congressman Edward E. Browne of Waupaca has introduced a bill providing control of floods and improvements of navigation on the Fox and Wolf rivers.

EXPECT MANY AT DUROC MEETING

Duroc-Jersey breeders are expected to turn out in large numbers for the jamb by automobile to Fond du Lac Saturday to attend the state Duroc meeting at the F. J. Ruppert farm. The delegation is to leave the First National Bank corner at 9 o'clock.

The morning period will be given over to visiting farms in the vicinity. The picnic will open at 12 o'clock. Roast pig, rolls, coffee and lemonade will be served by the committee in charge and families are to furnish the remainder of their lunches.

Short talks are to be given from 12:15 to 1:30, after which there will be a concert until 4:30 by the Fond du Lac Military band of 35 pieces. The entire affair will be held at Armory B in case of rain.

PAPER FIRM READY TO LET CONTRACTS

Architect Edward Wettengel has been authorized by the Valley Paper Mills to award contracts for excavating, foundation, walls and sidewalks for the proposed new mill at Menasha. Excavation work will commence shortly and may take about two months. Dirt obtained from the excavation will be used to build the roadbeds for the sidings.

The new mill is to be located west of the Blair Spring rd. The building will be 610 feet in length and its width will vary to accommodate machinery. The company will specialize in the manufacture of glassine paper and similar products. An up-to-date printing establishment will be maintained.

EDUCATION IS TOPIC FOR LABOR CONVENTION

Many Appleton people will attend the convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor which will be held at Oshkosh July 13 to 25. Compulsory education will be the topic for Tuesday evening and the educational problems will be thoroughly discussed.

The convention will be opened Tuesday morning, when the routine business of the session will be taken up. On Wednesday evening there will be a big dance and on Thursday, the annual banquet for members and their families will take place. Friday evening there will be an informal get-together event but no program has been planned for the delegates.

BOYS HONORED BY Y. M. C. A.

To be chosen from a group of 318 boys in the membership of the Y. M. C. A. as the "livest wires" and possession of the most contagious Christian character is the honor that falls this year to the group of young men pictured above. They are Harry Parton, Albert Timme, Harold Eads, Melvin Schneider and Alden Behnke.

In recognition of the leadership and example to the younger boys these five have had their names engraved on the large gold letter "C" that hangs on the wall of the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A., and which encircles the "Y" triangle emblem. This is an annual custom. The finest types of young men are selected each year and in addition to having them on the honor emblem their pictures are framed and hung on the wall.

This ceremony is regarded as the highest honor the Y. M. C. A. can confer on any of the boys who grow up in its boys' department. It means a demonstration of clean, Christian character, high scholarship, athletic proficiency and ability to lead in the boys' work of the association and their own churches.

PICKED BY MATES

Three of the boys, Alden Behnke, Albert Timme and Melvin Schneider were selected from the Hi-Y group. Harry Parton from the Employed Boys Brotherhood and Harold Eads from the Hustler club by virtue of winning the title of supreme hustler. Members of the groups named those deserving of the honor in each case.

Alden Behnke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Behnke, 437 Eldorado-st. He is president of the Hi-Y club and as a junior in high school stood second highest in his class. He is president of the intermediate department of the First Congregational church school and active in its Christian Endeavor society.

Albert Timme is the son of Ernest G. Timme, 435 College-ave. He is a past president of the Hi-Y club and a leader in the Junior Wireless Club and the Kit Carson Pioneer club of the Y. M. C. A. He was a senior in high school this year, and also is active in work of the First Congregational church.

Melvin Schneider, a junior in high school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Schneider, 443 North-st. He is vice president of the Hi-Y club and was leader of the Hustlers club group which won the highest number of points in the winter contest.

EDITS MAGAZINE

Harry Parton is the son of Mrs. Laura Parton, 665 Appleton-st. He is president of the Employed Boys Brotherhood and has been especially successful in building up the organization's membership and work. His most effective work has been done through the brotherhood's publication, the "Employed Boy," of which he is the editor.

Harold Eads, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Eads, led the entire group of boys in the Hustler club, winning the title of supreme hustler and capturing a handsome prize. To gain this honor he had to be skilled in leadership, school work and athletics, and had to demonstrate Christian character and regular attendance and interest in Y. M. C. A. boys' work and Sunday school work.

DEMOCRATS CALL STATE MEETING

Outagamie County Entitled to 25 Delegates in Milwaukee Conference

Not to be outdone by the Republicans of Wisconsin who arranged for abig conference in Milwaukee to select candidates for the primaries in September, the Democrats of the state now are preparing for a similar meeting in the state metropolis on June 27. A call has gone forth from the state headquarters for county conferences to be held at the county seats as soon as possible to choose delegates to the state gathering. Outagamie county is entitled to 25 delegates on the basis of one for each 250 votes cast for the Democratic candidate for governor in the last election. A total of 6,246 votes were cast for Col. McCoy in 1920.

The call for the conference says the prospects for Democratic success in the state never were brighter than they are now. It is proposed to suggest candidates for United States senator, governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer and attorney general.

HOLD KAUKAUNA YOUNG MAN FOR ROBBING FRIEND

Accuse Youth of Taking $5 from Companion—Seek Neenah Youth

Elmer Vanervenhoven 19 a Kaukauna boy is being held by the police at Manitowoc on charge of being implicated in an alleged holdup of Stanley Corbett a Two Rivers youth last Tuesday morning at Manitowoc. A second young man, said to be from Neenah and reported to be implicated in the holdup is being sought by the police and proceedings in the case have been halted until he can be located.

Corbett with Vanervenhoven and the third man had been companions across the lake according to the story told to the police. The three were walking along south Eighth street when suddenly Corbett was seized by one of his companions while the other held a gun to his head and went through his pockets. He was relieved of $5 all the cash he had and his companions made a getaway. Corbett said.

The Kaukauna had been found on the streets Tuesday morning and was taken into custody. He is said to have made a confession as to his part in the alleged holdup and as a result of his story the third man is being sought. Corbett said he had no warning and the first intimation of danger he had was when he was seized by the throat. He alleges the other man had a gun. Vanervenhoven denied knowledge of his companions whereabouts and said he is not certain his home is in Neenah.

The holdup occurred at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning and according to Corbett the men had been ascending the nights in the open or in box cars since their arrival at Manitowoc-Saturday. Corbett said he could not put up a fight because of fear of the gun which he charges one of the fellows carried.

APPLETON MAN WINS HONORS AT MADISON

Norman N. Schomisch of Appleton is one of the graduates of the University of Wisconsin to be awarded honors for general scholarship this year. Four others of the college of commerce received honors. High honors were awarded at commencement Wednesday to 14 members of the graduation class, and honors were awarded to 111 women students captured four of the high honors and 56 of the honors. Honors for graduating theses were awarded to 19 students of whom 8 were women.

"Y" CAMP ROLL IS BIGGEST IN STATE

Twenty Boys Are Registered for Summer Outing at Camp Manitowish

Appleton will send more boys to the state Y M C A summer camp at Manitowish this year than any city in the state. There are 20 registrations in the hands of J. E. Dennison, boys work secretary. Appleton will send even more than Milwaukee where 11 are registered.

The Y M C A will be represented by these boys in addition to a college group. Albert Timme, Harry Leith, Henry Wood, Beverly Murphy, Alden Behnke, David Bender, Richard Tuttrup, Douglas Hyde, Donald Hyde, John Harriman and Karl Packard. All of these with Mr. Dennison, will attend during the special H Y club conference period the last two weeks of the season. Mark Catlin Jr. and Robert Jones will attend during the second period opening July 11 making the first time Appleton has had any boys from its junior group in attendance. Several more registrations are expected later.

The camp is on Boulder lake Vilas county in the midst of the noted Manitowish waters of northern Wisconsin. It is within the cruising region of the seven thousand lakes "where canoeing is the ideal recreation. This year's program of activities is to be the best ever arranged.

MENASHA RIVER VIEWS WIN SIXTH VICTORY

The Menasha River View baseball team added its sixth victory to its list by defeating the Menominee Mich. team by a score of 7 to 5. This is the first defeat of the season for the Menominee nine. Manager Steve Gully of the River View is anxious to book a fast team for next Sunday.

Purchase Binders
Memoranda on the reading tables at the Y M C A will blossom out in new binding covers soon. The association has purchased 19 flexible leather binders to replace those that were worn out. The new covers are of a kind that will prevent injury to table surfaces.

GREEN BAY WANTS BAY BEACH SERVICE

Mavor Wiesner and Councilman Frank Cartier of Green Bay and Z J Vandeveld were in Appleton this week to confer with A. W. Priest, owner of the Bay Beach Street Car company on the matter of securing street car service from the Green Bay business district to Bay Beach this summer. No compromise was reached and the deadlock still exists.

Mr. Priest threatened to tear up the line and scrap the tracks rather than sell for less than what he says represents his actual investment, said to be $25,500. Green Bay officials valued the line at $10,000. The city probably will attempt to force operation of the line through the railroad rate commission, which refused to issue a permit to discontinue service and scrap the property.

EMPLOYERS MEET AT MENASHA TUESDAY

Green Bay Man Chief Speaker at Industrial Relations Assn. Gathering

The Fox River Valley Industrial Relations association will hold its dinner meeting at Menasha on June 20. W. J. Peacock of the Northern Paper Mills of Green Bay will talk on "The Importance of Mental Factors in Employment Relations." Other speakers will include S. B. Harding of the Harding Machine company and A. E. Coffin of the Fort Howard Paper company, who will speak on results achieved in their plants and on tested customs that have proved successful in the Fox river valley. There will be several other speakers.

All the meetings of the association during the summer will be held at Menasha because it is more centrally located than any other city. A short informal meeting of the association will take place at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon before the dinner meeting. All members who can be at the afternoon meeting are expected to be present. The Menasha members are planning on a large delegation at the meetings.

Lumber Firm Displays Part Of Huge Tree

In order to give Appleton people an idea of the immense size of fir trees of the Pacific coast the Standard Manufacturing Co. has placed a 2-foot section of one in front of its plant on Lowell st. The block is more than seven feet in diameter and the bark in some places is three inches thick. The number of rings, one for each year, indicating the age of the tree, is close to 400. The section came from Tacoma, Wash., and the tree from which it was taken is said to have contained 48,000 feet of lumber, or two carloads.

NEW SERVICE SCHEDULE AT ST. JOSEPH CHURCH

The summer schedule of services at St. Joseph church goes into effect Sunday, June 18, at which time there will be mass at 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 9:30, and 10:30. High mass will be at 7:30, children's mass at 9:30 and low mass at 10:30. Members of St. Aloysius society will approach communion at 7:30 Sunday morning. The annual Corpus Christi procession will be held following that mass.

Webster defines the word "Rate" as "A Charge, Payment or Price, Fixed According to Ratio, Scale or Standard."

ANYONE depending on this definition, however, to enlighten him on the subject of his electric rate would know little concerning it. And yet, there are hundreds of people, right here in the city, daily using electricity for light and power, who know no more of the rate they are paying for electric current but that it is, as Webster says, a fixed charge of some sort.

Avail yourself of the opportunity now offered you through the White Bag Men, to learn how the rate is figured, how to read the meter and to familiarize yourself with the meaning of common electrical terms.

This service is free and rendered our customers in the sincere hope that it will prove of benefit to them. Judging from the many endorsements we have received from customers on whom the White Bag Men have already called, we feel that our efforts are appreciated and that the White Bag Men are performing valuable service to this community.

ESTIMATE FLOOD DAMAGE TO HIGHWAYS AT $80,000

SURVEY OF ROADS INDICATES HEAVY LOSS IN STORM

A. G. Brusewitz Estimates Damage to Crops in This County at $30,000

After a survey of the county highways, damages to fills, bridges and culverts caused by the rain and wind storm Saturday are estimated at $80,000 by A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner. He also believes that damages to town roads and bridges will amount to at least $30,000 more. Damages of $30,000 to Outagamie county, he considers a conservative estimate.

The greatest damage to county trunk highway was on highway J, about four miles north of Kaukauna, where 200 feet of concrete roadway, including the same number of feet of filling, 13 feet wide and 24 to 40 feet deep was washed out. Damages on this sector are estimated at $12,000.

Another road to suffer severely is county trunk highway E, nearly four miles north of Little Chute. The loss here is about $10,000. Here too 150 feet of pavement, that much of filling and a bridge, all but the ring arch, are gone.

About $3,000 damage was caused by the washout of the bridge on county trunk highway C, two miles east of Bailey's Corners. Damages to the Mud Creek bridge on the brickyard road, total $300.

Travelers to Green Bay may get through by taking highway J, until it strikes highway N east of Freedom and then proceeding to state highway 15.

YELLOWSTONE PARK IS 50 YEARS "OLD"

Jim Bridger, "Greatest Liar" is Vindicated by Events

Special to The Post-Crescent
Yellowstone Park—This year celebrates the golden anniversary of Yellowstone National Park and vindicates Jim Bridger, "the greatest liar of his time."

For it was this solitary trapper, pushing through an unknown and Indian infested region to the south of the present park boundary, who stumbled upon the awe-inspiring geysers and hot springs, and discovered the Yellowstone. Then he returned across the Teton range of the Rockies.

Now Bridger had an imagination and knack for telling tales, and to the facts—amazing enough as they were—was not above adding a few ornaments.

IS JEERED
He was the center of laughter, jeered at and derided, cheated for many, many years of the fame that was his. And when he died an epitaph was inscribed which read:

Here LIES Jim Bridger. He LIES in death as in life.

But his tales of boiling water "as big as a man's body spouting higher than the flagpole in Virginia City" had awakened the curiosity of other explorers and trappers, and in 1850 David Foster and G. W. Cook headed a party that touched a fringe of the "terror land that Bridger described."

However, they feared to relate what they had seen lest they be classed with the "greatest liar of his time."

Thus it was not until 1872 that official verification was given Bridger's tales. These later adventures, under General H. D. Washburn, went the official credit of discovery.

ON BIG SCALE
The Yellowstone remains the largest of our national parks and contains the greatest variety of scenic wonders.

Everything within its more than 2,000,000 acres is on a gigantic scale. Distances are great; mountains are of terrifying heights; the geysers, the "painted pots," the hot springs, are of never-ending interest to tourists.

The opening day this year is June 15, and park officials expect that more than 100,000 visitors will see for themselves that old Jim Bridger wasn't such a monstrous exaggerator, after all.

MR. MARS HAS DATE WITH MOTHER EARTH NEXT SUNDAY EVENING

MARS WILL BE 42,350,000 MILES NEAR THE EARTH—
AND IF YOU LOOK HARD ENOUGH YOU MAY SEE—

Mars is going to take a close look at Appleton City Sunday evening, June 18.

And by the same token, Appleton citizens are going to take a close look at Mars—the closest since 1909!

By Sunday night Mars will be 42,350,000 miles nearer the earth than it was a month ago. Proving Mars as a speeder certainly stirs up the stardust!

But you needn't fear Mars will skid at some celestial corner and knock a fender off the earth. For Mars will come within only 42,000,000 miles of the planet to which we hold title, before he curves away again.

If Mars were to hesitate at that 42,000,000-mile mark while you traveled from here to there on an airplane doing 200 miles an hour, he would have to wait 24 1/2 years for you to arrive!

MEDICAL VISITS MARS
Only one earth-being ever thought seriously of traveling to Mars. Captain Claude Colling planned to ride a sky-rocket thither. But he couldn't get a rocket large enough.

However, a famous French scientist, Mademoiselle Helene Smith, says she projected her soul to Mars. There she saw:

Congregational Church "Turn Out" Holds Crowd

Splendid Program and Entertainment is Provided at Alicia Park

All was fun Thursday at Alicia park when the First Congregational church held its annual "turn out" for old and young. The picnicers were divided into four groups alphabetically, reds, whites, greens and pinks, and in the series of contests that followed the reds topped first honors with 154 points. The whites were second with 73 points, green third with 64 points, and the pinks last with 22.

H. P. (Cub) Buck was director of the events and George R. Wetengel announced them. Wide bands were worn on the arm of each person, the color designating the group to which he belonged. The older folks as well as the kids got into the deings, with the result that all "had a good time."

Ice cream cones were given free to the winner of first place in each contest.

The picnic began about 11 o'clock, and basket lunches were served at noon. Most of the children were taken to the park and back in automobiles. The stunts were started in the afternoon. The sons played the dads at baseball and showed the grownups a few tricks while they were administering a beating. George Wetengel was umpire.

Other events included 10 running races, obstacle, slugged, fat men's medley, group and sack races. In the group race 10 persons were tied together and had a time of it trying to toddle to the goal.

REDS TOO CONFIDENT
The reds won so many of the events they got "cocky" toward the last and challenged the greens and whites to a tug-of-war. The latter two accepted and pulled the reds to defeat, although Cub Buck was with the over-confident squad. A tug-of-war also was held for children, with 15 on each side.

Winners of first and second places for the reds were Edward Hartzfeld, Howard Bowly, Betty Buchanan, Mrs. Linda Bowles, Louise Curry, Anna Berger, Charlotte Devoe, Mark Catlin, Sr., Dorothy Brush, Horace Davis, Myrtle Basing, Julia Devoe, Mark Catlin, Jr., Mrs. Becker, Howard T. Buck, Byron Bowly and Irving Cameron.

First and second honor winners for the whites were Louise Marston, Clarence Sheldon, Mrs. N. Oviatt, Martha Holbrook, Dr. William Madison and Mrs. Penning; for the greens, Robert Zschachner, Bertha Steiner, Mildred Zschachner, Master Heideman, Milton Schwandt; for the pinks, Russell Jabas, Gail Hayes and Jeanette Johnson.

COUNTY W. C. T. U. CONVENTION HERE
The county convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union opened its general sessions at the Baptist church Friday afternoon. Conference of officers and superintendents took place in the morning. D. P. French was the speaker of the afternoon, while Mrs. Mary Scott Johnson and John Strange will speak Friday evening.

Election of officers and routine business will be transacted Saturday morning and the sessions will close Saturday afternoon. Delegates from all the unions in the county were expected.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN
Broken Out Skin and Itching Eczema Helped Over Night
For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment. declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.
Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.
Get a small jar from any good druggist and use it like cold cream. adv.

ANTI-CHRISTIAN MOVE BEGUN BY CHINA STUDENTS

Religious Movement Started in Peking University — Christian Leaders Alarmed

By Associated Press

Amoy, China—The religious world of the far east is stirred by an anti-Christian movement which started early in May among the students of Peking University, and is now rapidly spreading among the students of private and government schools throughout the country. These young people term Christianity a superstition and harmful to the people, taking away reverence for ancestors and freedom of thought and action.

The new movement has begun an energetic propaganda, which in turn has brought Christian leaders to the front, many of whom look upon the movement with grave misgivings, not knowing what will be the outcome. Others think it is simply the result of a desire to organize something, and that the best means of defeating it is to ignore it.

Conditions provoking the organization of such a movement are said by Christian leaders to be the rapid progress of Christianity in China taken together with much talk and advertising of the recent world's Christian Students conference and other conferences of a like nature held in this country. The students are declared to be unconscious tools in the hands of leaders who are seeking favorable conditions for the breaking up of organized society and the working of Communistic ideas.

Considering the possibility of an anti-foreign movement resulting, the local consular bodies have taken up the matter with the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs who, however, promises himself unable to give any promise of protection in case of persecution. Already in a few places minor outbreaks of a hostile nature against mission work have been reported, in spite of the claim by leaders of the movement that the purpose is to be nothing more than passive resistance.

A. L. Fricke of Chicago, was a business visitor in this city Thursday and Friday.

SCIENTISTS DISAGREE
But other scientists disagree. They think there is nothing but very little water and a thin layer of air on the planet.

"There has been absolutely no determination of life on Mars," says Dr. C. S. Brannan of Columbia University.

But Professor William H. Pickering of Harvard says that the weather there is fine—

Especially during the summer.

SAUNDERS WRESTLES ED. LEWIS TONIGHT

Elmer Johnston, matchmaker for the Mid-West Athletic club, which staged several wrestling and boxing matches here last winter, is promoting a wrestling match between Strangler Lewis, world champion, and Elmer Saunders, Ashland, at Rochester, Minn., this evening. The match is the big feature of the annual convention of the Minnesota State Firemen's association.

Mr. Johnston wired this morning that every seat in the big pavilion has been sold. Rochester called off every activity for tonight so there would be no counter attraction. About 5,000 firemen are attending the convention.

E. W. Teak of Indianapolis, formerly of Appleton, visited Mrs. E. M. Webster and Mrs. D. A. Gardner Thursday.

TOO EXPENSIVE TO RAISE LUSITANIA DECLARES EXPERT

Could Build New Ship For Money Necessary to Raise Sunken Liner

By Associated Press

London—The statement cabled from New York that an American salvage company was going to try to raise the Lusitania has aroused keen interest here. But most of those who speak with authority about lifting ships from the bottom of the sea are sceptical as to the Lusitania ever being floated.

Sir Frederick Young is strongly of the opinion that it will never be done. He had charge of the Admiralty Salvage section during the war, and brought into port nearly 500 ships that had become war casualties. Many of them had been torpedoed and a considerable number had been sunk. No one knows more about raising sunken ships.

To an interviewer Sir Frederick has said it is very improbable, though not absolutely impossible, that the Lusitania could be raised. The cost would be out of all proportion to her value. After living seven years at the bottom of the sea it would cost as much to restate her as to build a new vessel.

To build a floating chamber nine hundred feet long and one hundred feet wide and to attempt to raise the wreck by means of steel cables, would involve, Sir Frederick pointed out, an expenditure so considerable as to make the undertaking by no means quite impossible on any commercial basis. The alternative method of raising the vessel by pumping in compressed air hardly seemed feasible. Before that could be done she would have to be made air tight by closing all openings. It is impossible for divers to work at a depth of 250 feet, and they would have to go that far under water to get at the Lusitania. The greatest depth at which divers now work successfully is 150 feet.

RELIGION SCHOOL TO BE ENLARGED AT FALL OPENING

Add Fourth Grade and Takes Pupils Away From School Only One Period

Appleton's week-day school of religion which proved so successful the last season is to be continued next fall with larger scope and alterations in its schedule, according to Prof. E. E. Emme, community religious director.

A plan now is under consideration to have a fourth grade group in addition to the usual fifth and sixth grade groups, which is expected to well the enrollment. Another change contemplated is to have the children leave the school for these classes only a week instead of two. They will be dismissed at 2:30 instead of 3 o'clock, and have one session lasting an hour. Last season they were released from school twice a week for half hour periods. The latter change largely at the suggestion of the principals.

Nine churches which cooperated last year will conduct the cooperative religious education plan this year and have resigned Prof. Emme as their director. The budget has been approved by these churches. First Baptist, Memorial Presbyterian, Evangelical association, All Saints Episcopal, First Congregational, and First Methodist. The other churches have approved the plan nominally and will make official action at their next regular meetings.

POLICY IS FAIR

Emphasis will continue to be placed on the policy outlined by Mr. Emme along each religious body responsible for successful conduct of the school. The policy will embody fairness to all churches, with the parent as the determining factor as to what church the children shall go to. The system is expected to be beneficial as well to Lutheran and Catholic churches, which have parochial schools.

FOUR MORE SCHOOLS

Appleton, where the week-day religious school was started for Wisconsin, will not be alone in this activity next year, because four other cities have voted to open such schools next fall. They are Wausau, Antigo, Eau Claire and Waushara. Others seriously considering it are Neenah, Marinette, Fond du Lac and others. Ripon put its school into operation late last winter.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of Wisconsin to further the movement is a statement by President Warren G. Harding recently concerning religious education, in which he says: "A parent must train his child's character religiously, fit him to become a citizen, and if this is done, trained bodies and trained minds may simply add to the constructive forces of the world."

HACKLEMAN READY TO START BUILDING

W. H. Hackleman has received the plans for his new building from Edward A. Wetzel, architect, and intends to advertise for bids at once. The building is to be 24 by 50 feet in size with basement and will be occupied by Mr. Hackleman's jewelry store and by Klein & Shimek, plumbers. The jewelry store will occupy the east 12 feet and the plumbing shop the west 12 feet. The building will contain all modern improvements and will be ready for occupancy early in the fall.

LOTS OF ENTERTAINMENT AT STATE BAR MEETING

When local attorneys attend the annual meeting of the Wisconsin State bar association in Fond du Lac, June 17, 18, and 19, there will be one continual round of golfing, tennis, fishing, luncheon parties and auto trips for entertainment between business sessions. Headquarters will be at the Elks club. The program will include addresses by several prominent jurists who will discuss legal principles and technicalities.

Lots Of Carnivals

Appleton people have had more opportunities to visit carnivals this summer than before they were prohibited from exhibiting within the city. Instead of using the circus grounds on West College ave. they now locate over the line in Calumet-co. One carnival company has come and gone, another is here and a third, Wolf Carnivals Co., has leased the former baseball grounds in the Fourth ward for a week beginning July 19.

Opens Fond du Lac Store

Miss Kathryn O'Connor, formerly of Appleton, has formed a partnership with Mrs. George Neitzel of Fond du Lac and purchased the Tip Top ice cream and confectionary parlor of the latter city from R. H. Fushmann. The establishment was formally opened Wednesday.

Low Soldier Dispersed Attacks

For two years my stomach troubles were very bad, my doctor had to inject morphine on several occasions when I was stricken with these attacks. Since taking 4 bottles of Dr. Williams' Wonderful Remedy I have been entirely well and am serving in an artillery, having been pronounced in perfect health by government physicians. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal focus from the intestinal tract and lays the inflammation which causes actual stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

LITTLE EDITH ADKINS, WITH GOLLMAR BROS. CIRCUS HAS A PAIR OF BABY LEOPARDS AS PLAYMATES

The stork worked overtime in the winter quarters of Gollmar Bros. Circus this year. It has created a juvenile section with this circus that has never before been equaled. Quite a number of wild and domestic animals were born and many of them are rare and very highly valued animals. This section of the circus with the number of children that accompany their parents makes it a veritable "children's paradise."

Gollmar Bros. Circus, which will exhibit here Tuesday, June 27 is now on its thirty-third year tour. The Gollmars are cousins of the Ringling Bros., and started in the circus business about the same time.

The stork delivered into quarters seven lions, six pumas, three tigers, seven leopards, a camel, which is a rarity to be born in captivity, several monkeys and many domestic animals. All of the wild beasts are quartered in a special cage and are placed on view in the street parades. The camel has the distinction of having been christened and made a member of the Montgomery, Ala., shrines. He has been named "Alcazar," after the shrine lodge. He is also a honorary member of the Rotary Club of the same city. He is a regular rotarian and wears his badge with much distinction.

It is the intention of the management to teach the younger wild animals to act and have small girls as their tutors. Already one little girl plays with the leopards like kittens.

TWO WEEKS MORE TO PAY UP DELINQUENT TAXES

Delinquent taxpayers of Outagamie-co. have less than two more weeks to pay their taxes before portions of their properties go to public sale on June 27. The date of sale was postponed from June 13 to give the delinquents two weeks' grace. Since the announcement of the postponed sale about $3,500 has been collected. The settling will have to become decidedly more active if all properties are to be saved from the sale.

Confirmation Sunday

A class of ten young people will be confirmed at Zion Lutheran church at the 8:45 English service on Sunday. The Rev. Theodore Marth will officiate at the confirmation service. The German service will start at 10:15 as usual.

ADD 710 MEMBERS TO A. A. L. ROLL

Membership of the Aid Association for Lutherans was increased 710 during the month of May, according to the monthly report submitted at a meeting of the trustees Wednesday afternoon. This is a decided increase over the number approximately 100,000 of the association's surplus in bonds and other securities was authorized by the board.

Reports on progress in construction of the insurance building were heard and many of the details for equipping the associations quarters on the fifth floor discussed. The ceilings of the rooms are to be finished in ivory color and the walls in buff. Samples of rugs submitted by a local firm were examined.

New Record In Number Of June Brides This Year

The magic of June is having its effect upon young people of Outagamie-co. No fewer than 104 persons found its charms irresistible during the first half of the month. In the first 14 days of June 52 couples applied for marriage licenses. This was at the rate of five licenses a day, not including Sundays. This number already eight in excess of that for the whole month of May. April with 37 and March with 11 applications, were still poorer months for Cupid. The matrimonial bureau is clearly beginning to show signs of life.

HAILED BY HUNDREDS IN THIS CITY AS GREATEST PREPARATION OF THE AGE

Statements Which Countless Local People Have Made Will Stand As Everlasting Tribute To Trutona's Remarkable Effectiveness In Overcoming Nervousness, Dizziness, Headaches, Back, Side Pains, Sleeplessness, General Debility, Gastritis, Blood Disorders And As Reconstructive Tonic—Great Demand Increasing

"It's the greatest stomach, liver, kidney, bowel and blood remedy of all time," that's what hundreds of Appleton residents think about Trutona today. As in every city where it has been introduced in the past three years, Trutona has brought simply remarkable relief to scores and scores of Appleton people. Many who thought their cases hopeless have told in grateful words how this sterling remedy completely overcame troubles from which they had suffered for years and restored their health.

Many other Appleton residents, not troubled with chronic ills, but whose systems are not in the best condition and who see in Trutona a wonderful reconstructive tonic, are taking this great medicine to build up their systems, weakened and run down by the past winter.

The following statements from nearly a score of local people, strikingly show Trutona's practically unfailing effectiveness in overcoming nervousness, dizziness, back, side pains, gastritis, blood disorders and the like.

If YOU are in poor health, we ask YOU to read carefully every one of the following quotations—not from residents of some far-distant state—but from respected and well-known people of YOUR OWN HOME TOWN!

Mrs. H. Wolfgram, 573 Main-st., says: "Influenza left me terribly weakened and I'll tell you it's remarkable how quickly Trutona built me up in strength. It relieved me of dizziness and brought sound sleep to me also."

L. Manthe, 624 Lincoln-st., says: "This medicine Trutona's given me more relief from stomach and liver troubles than all the others I've ever tried. It's undoubtedly a wonderful preparation."

Mrs. Emil Hardon, 724 Atlantic-st., says: "I feel better now than I have for years, since taking Trutona. My food tastes so good, the tired, peevish feeling has left me and my housework is really a pleasure nowadays."

Mrs. H. L. Kern, 824 Tonka-st., says: "My husband says his stomach hasn't acted so nicely in years as it does since he's taken Trutona. He said the other day he considered Trutona the finest medicine he has ever taken."

Mrs. Frank Spert, 1265 Spencer-st., says: "I'd spent a lot of money, trying for relief from severe stomach troubles, but nothing helped me at all until I began using this great medicine Trutona recently."

Mrs. G. F. Courtney, 836 Prospect-st., says: "I can honestly and conscientiously recommend Trutona to anyone who is suffering from constipation. I'm certainly well satisfied with the benefits this medicine's given me."

Mrs. M. H. Bus, 925 Durkee-st., says: "It's actually almost unbelievable that any medicine could relieve me of kidney troubles like Trutona really has. I simply feel 100 per cent improved nowadays."

The foregoing statements ring with sincerity that cannot be doubted. They set forth facts which should convince the most skeptical that Trutona is DIFFERENT from the average proprietary remedy—a medicine quicker to give relief, more thorough in action and ONE remedy possessed of positively remarkable reconstructive merit—just what thousands need at this season to overcome after-effects of many winter ills.

TRUTONA, the Famous Vegetable Preparation, Which Continues To Win the Unstinted Praise Of Scores of Appleton Residents, Is Sold and Highly Recommended In Appleton at SCHLINTZ BROTHERS' Drug Store, Where Scores Of Local People Are Now Calling Daily.

Mrs. Mary Neigenfind, 841 Clark-st., says: "I had suffered constantly from rheumatism for years, but Trutona has relieved the former dreadful pains in my arms and limbs, improved my appetite and regulated my bowels, too."

Mrs. H. A. Sanborn, 867 Morrison-st., says: "My terrible cough has disappeared, my appetite improved and my nerves quieted, since taking Trutona. I'm sure that I for one, cannot speak too highly of this great tonic."

B. J. Wetland, 1130 Elele-st., says: "It's just amazing that Trutona could relieve the bloated, gaseous condition of my stomach so quickly as it has done. Trutona's done more for me than was claimed for it at the start."

Mrs. Edward Paessler, 1073 Franklin-st., says: "I felt wretched all over when I began using this medicine Trutona, but I'm honest to admit that I feel just as fine as I ever did in my life today."

Mrs. Hugo Schueler, 902 Perry-st., says: "I haven't suffered the slightest headache, since taking this wonderful medicine Trutona, the bad taste has vanished from my mouth and my bowels have been regulated."

Arnold Kling, 1083 Oklahoma-st., says: "I don't even notice the former hard, lumpy feeling in my stomach any more, my headaches have stopped and my appetite is greatly improved, since I've taken Trutona."

Mrs. George Fox, 233 Division-st., Oshkosh, says: "Trutona has been worth a thousand dollars to me in restoring my health. I've gained ten pounds in the past month and I really feel 100 per cent stronger nowadays."

TRY A POST-CRESCENT WANT AD,

On Wings of Wireless

by ARTHUR E. REEVE

CHAPTER VIII

It was late when Dick finished relating the conversation on which he had listened in over the wireless dictagraph.

Nevertheless Garrick insisted on crossing the Park and dropping in at the Usonia. On the register, freshly blotted, he read:

Miss Ruth Walden, Nonowantuc, L. I.
Miss Vira Gerard, Nonowantuc, L. I.

"Too late to disturb them—but you can bet it won't be too late in the morning when they're disturbed." Garrick turned up a telephone booth and said to Nita Walden, "All right, Ruth doesn't sleep much tonight," he concluded. "The thought of you and the wrecked car and the mess she is in will keep her awake. A few serious thoughts in the darkness will do her a lot of good. We'll stop for you—early."

It was not much after seven when Garrick, Dick and Mrs. Walden rode up in the Usonia elevator. As the door clanged shut, Mrs. Walden motioned Garrick back, with a nod.

In her haste and nervousness she nearly stumbled to the door of Ruth's room. She put her hand on the wall to steady herself and listened. In the room she heard voices. She rapped but did not wait for Ruth to open. For the door was not locked.

"Mummy!" Without a second's

"THE WILDER YOU ARE, THE MORE I WANT TO HAVE YOU."

hesitation Ruth ran to her mother. There was no reprimanding. Nita Walden felt only a joy to have recovered what she thought might have been lost. Only a mother could know the depth of that feeling. She took Ruth's pretty face lovingly in her hands and looked intensely into the beautiful blue depths. Mother love and trust were trying to drown suspicion.

"Ruth is every thing all right with you?" Her hold on Ruth tightened. "How could I ever do anything... with a Mummy like you?" There was that in Ruth's eyes that told of innocence in spite of her wild love of excitement.

"Don't worry," Mrs. Walden chimed in. "Her only companions last night were a bottle of Omicron Oil and my greasy fingers doing the massage act."

Ruth laughed outright, but Mrs. Walden smiled a serious smile. "You girls!" was all she could find words to say.

Vira answered another knock at the door. It was Garrick and Dick. Ruth looked up surprised. "How did you know I was here?"

"Dick's invented a wireless mind reader. Love will find a way." Garrick looked from Ruth to Dick.

Dick couldn't say anything at first. Mrs. Walden took his hand and pressed it gratefully, then she turned deliberately from Ruth and Dick and began moving away. Garrick and Vira as they moved away to Garrick's room, if you only knew the relief I feel at seeing you again! I was afraid you had been hurt or something. If you could only have seen me you'd know what you mean to me. I felt so sorry for your mother, Ruth. Please be a little careful for her sake."

girl in these days of woman's freedom. "Nothing to what it must be to raise a boy!" retorted Ruth. Then a moment later, "Mother, we'll go out to the Club together. I'm going to put on my swankiest gown—and get the drop on those old gossips out there—sweep 'em off their ears. Just watch me!"

Dick and Garrick were taking leave. "Now, Ruth," Garrick said gravely smiling, "let me go home and sleep. Don't do anything more until I get a few hours of rest. It takes sleep to keep up with you."

As Dick was prolonging the goodbye and trying to arrange when they were to see each other again a bell-boy opened the hall door and set down a beautiful basket of roses. Ruth's face sank in the flowers. Wrinkling up her little nose she looked teasingly at Dick. She drew a card out of the basket and threw it on the table.

"Mummy, see what Jack Curtis sent me. Isn't he thoughtful? They are my favorite shade."

Mrs. Walden looked none to pleased. Dick was in the depths again. He would willingly have stuck up Jack.

Fifteen minutes later back in Garrick's room Dick was still scowling. This time at the dictagraph as he recalled what he had overheard Jack playing in the love game last night.

Garrick picked the headpiece up. "You know, I never really saw this thing work. What was the matter with it last night?"

"Someone jammed in on the same wave length. I can't see yet how." Garrick held up his hand. "It's Vira and Glenn in the Pink Room."

He listened intently. "Vira, I've been aching to have you alone. Please don't get angry at Rae's foolishness with me. I can't stop her without making the crowd sore. You know how it is. I've wanted to tell you this in some place where I could..."

"Don't Glenn!" There was a silence. Then muffled, "I oughtn't to tell you, but I can't help it. They say you shouldn't be jealous—but if you care enough for a fellow—how can you help it?"

"I'm going to tell you a secret. When you gave me that key to give to them, do you know what I did? I got the stuff out first from your house... to protect you. I did it on my own. And it was lucky I did. How? I put it in my own garage."

Garrick chuckled. Here at least was one unbounded warehouse of the Velvet Gang.

"You fatheads!" This was Rae's voice, interrupting. "Be careful! Don't you know that last night they overheard—"

There was a muffled whisper, a man's voice, but it was lost. It was evidently a caution.

"That's a partial explanation of why your dictagraph went bad last night, Dick," commented Garrick. "Someone's hunting now for the transmitter."

Dick looked at Garrick and Garrick at Dick. Here they were powerless to stop it. Dick grabbed one of the earpieces.

There was a singing, metallic noise as if someone had wrenched out the iron grill work in front of the fireplace under the old mantel. The diaphragm reproduced a crashing crack. The dictagraph receiver was smashed.

Garrick thoughtfully laid down the earpiece. "Well, that's that!"

"I think," suggested Dick, not a bit ruffled, "if the Waldens are going back to the Club we'll go out to my workshop on the harbor. If anything's going to happen, it will be out there."

"And you'll be near Ruth," penetrated Garrick.

"Well, where Ruth is, that's where things happen, eh?" When her mother's ear pulled up at the Club that afternoon, Ruth hopped out and was up the steps with a bound.

"Wouldn't you like to try the new boiler?" "Would I? Run me over to Merriwell's garage. I want to see that wrecked boat of my own and give some instructions what shade I want the body done over in. I feel lost without a wheel in my hands. You won't mind, Mummys—for a little while?"

Mrs. Walden was powerless. She had wanted Ruth to stay on. But she had her cue from her own daughter. After all it was she who would have to sweep the older gossips "off their ears."

Ruth may have dressed to impress the crowd at the Club but it all went to Jack's head and he broke out in intense love making.

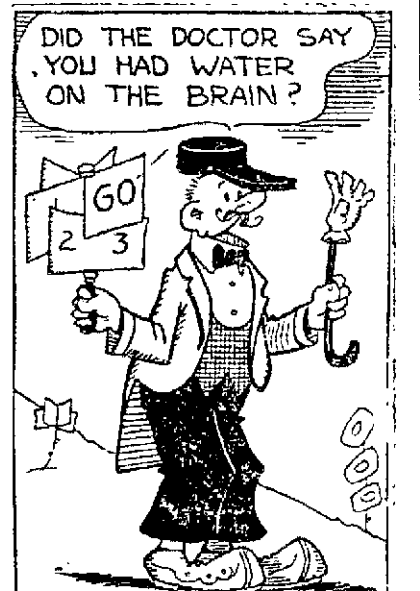

"Did you get my flowers, Ruth?" "They were beautiful. How did you know my favorites?" "Mine too. That's how, Ruth. dear, haven't you noticed how many things we have in common? Love of fast cars, speed, excitement—even to roses! Why I couldn't even quarrel with you!"

He edged over under the wheel nearer her. Ruth smiled at him. Suddenly he leaned over to steal a kiss. It went wrong and fell on her ear. Somehow Ruth was glad it wasn't the one Dick had kissed. But the next moment she had taken Jack's hand and given it a little squeeze in return. (Continued in Our Next Issue)

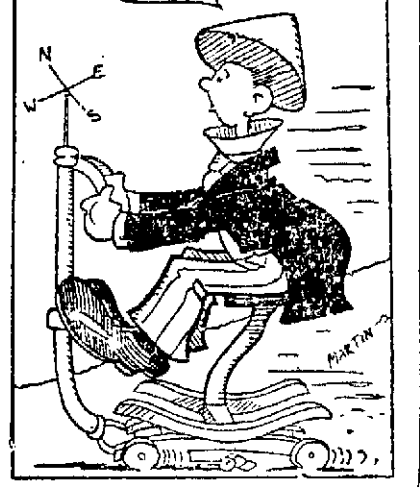

NEW SHOVEL DIGGING TRENCH FOR GAS MAINS

The new steam shovel of the Appleton Grading and Paving Co., which did the excavating for the new building of the Wichmann Furniture Co. is now doing trench work for Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. At present it is working on Spencer-st., where the traction-co. is laying a new gas main. As the traction-co. is replacing a large number of its gas mains, the shovel will be engaged in this work for some time.

LAW NEEDED TO PROTECT BABES
AT CHRISTENING

Shame to Wish a Name on Helpless Kid That Won't Him When He Grows Up

BY MARGARET ROHE.
My brother's tough and six feet tall.
And yet his name is Clarence.
Mehitable was wished on me.
Oh how we blame our parents
New York — Come of the folks so handy at making laws prohibiting food drink religion free speech and inconsequential things like that ought to go in for something really important.

They should evolve a nice but firm little law absolutely prohibiting the naming of infants at birth by misguided parents. Of course some amateur parents go even further and name the offspring before birth, but this seldom amounts to much, as revisions are so often necessary.

Any naming of infants should be compulsively postponed until said infant has reached the years of discretion when it is able to put its own finger on a nice name that suits its personality.

Just think of all the suffering and heartbreak, shame and derision resulting from what not such a law would save poor mites named and named for life at the same christening.

Why I once knew a baby named Job after his grandfather. Yes of course grandpa was wealthy, but this instance alone was worthy of legislative proceeding.

Then take the case of that new prize-winning beauty at the Winter Garden. Her name was Lot's Cheek, and we know this is true because the press agent swears to it.

If you don't believe it you can look up her father Leon Cheek in the Dawson (Ga.) directory and if you find him write him about it.

Fond and foolish parents never seem to stop and consider that the dimpled forehead of a daughter whom they insist on calling "Dee" may grow up to be a strong-minded female wearing number eight common sense shoes, cropped hair and no corsets or that golden-curtled Lancelot will turn out to be a bald headed bootlegger.

It's an outrage to dub any defenseless infant Percy or Clarence no matter what he grows up to be.
And because mamma has been reading Browning is no good reason she should fasten "Pippa" on her girl child, especially when the last name is Jones.

It's true lots of modern young men refuse to change their names for their husbands, when they marry.
They contend it destroys their personality and identity. There is quite a club of them called the Lucy Stone League after the first protector against losing her own name and personality by donning a wedding ring.

But if marriage affected the first name ten to one if any Lucy Stoner had Aurora, Alice or Juliet Ophelia wished on her by a maternal ancestor she would be only too glad to change it personality and all.

That's the trouble with parents.
They will name by perfectly good names like Gertrude, Helen, Anne or Mary guaranteed to suit any personality and insist on straying out after floral specimens like Myrtle or Pansy, or they have a rapidity leaning from some gem of a name like Opal or Amber.

As for good old reliable male names like John, Thomas, William, they are spurned till it's no wonder the poor little heir howls at the fount when he is sprinkled with Rollo or Oswald.

Just take a run over the name list of your own family or acquaintances and see if you don't agree with me that parents as infant namers ought to be suppressed.

Hold World
Speed Record
In Telegraphy

Davton, O.—T. Ross Kepler, who learned telegraphy here claims the world's record for speed and endurance.

The contest was staged in Columbus. There were seven contestants.
In the speed event Kepler sent 519 words in 2 minutes 43 seconds using the Phillips code. In the endurance contest he sent reading matter in Morse for two hours 15 minutes at a pacing of 68 words a minute.

Kepler's speed record exceeds by 58 words a minute Dorjmin Tidrick's record in San Francisco in 1906.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE Married life in the Island of Celebes is pleasantly regulated —for the man at least.
When a man wants a new wife he applies to the head ra-jah. Polygamy is the rule.
A man can have as many wives as he can maintain, but he is obliged to take a separate house for each of them.

FLEES SAMOAN ENGAGEMENT

CATHERINE KEEPIE AMERICAN GIRL WHO SPURNED SAMOAN CHIEF

San Francisco—For subtle courtship girls hand the trophy to his majesty the Samoan chief.

Miss Catherine Keppie, pretty California girl who has just returned from Pago Pago Samoa, knows.

She unwittingly became engaged to wed Chief Peliessier and only the sailing of a trans-Pacific liner broke the troth.

I was accustomed to the rather straightforward blunt methods of the American men," she explained in relating her experience here. "And hence I was unprepared for what happened."

"When we visited Pago Pago the chief invited myself and some ship mates to a party. I'll admit here Peliessier was a good scout."

OUR FIRST YEAR

Chapter 62 — Romance is Ripening

By a Bride

Since this is an account of our first year, I shall not augment it with the story of how Bait became devoted to Bonny in a fortnight. How provincially turned the trick. They were thrown together day after day, and Dame Nature supreme matchmaker performed her task.

Provincially according to Max Smith ought to keep people as happy after marriage as before.

She and Andy have been married five years and they make every vacation a new honeymoon. Our party dubbed them "The Spooners."

But that wasn't true of Jack and my vacation and Max noticed something had gone wrong. But of course she couldn't speak about it except in directly.

Just being together ought to make a normal husband and wife love each other more year after year if they were fond of each other to start.

Marriage is all right as an institution. There's nothing wrong with matrimony, but some human beings don't know how to live up to it.
They spoil it. A wife ought to study all her chances—just as Bonny is doing.

Certainly Bonny wasn't missing any of hers! In a few days she discarded her flapper perfections and acquired a demureness that charmed us all.
I realized if she were a poor girl
Bart would have asked us to witness a wedding ceremony at some village parsonage along our route. As an old friend I suggested this.

"I'm too poor," Peggie's Bonny demanded. "I can't marry a girl with a fortune when I haven't a cent."
But Bait—you'll break her heart!"
I pleaded.

"Girls' hearts don't break nowadays," Peggie's he said quite slyly.

"You're going to let her go then for some horrid old sport like George Bradshaw?" He's poor enough—even in sculpies!"

Well if Bonny says she loves me —then falls for a guy as old as her father—I don't think you and I better interfere with fate he drawled.

"More than once I argued with Bait and much of our former brother and sister attitude came back. More than once Jack noticed Bart and I were extremely confidential."

Sometimes at our evening camps
Jack would come up as if hunting for me to discover me with Bart and then drift by. That sort of indifference made me furious—only to leave me heartbroken.

When we did have an odd moment alone together my man avoided being personal. It occurred to me Jack was being patient with me just as a devoted parent with a wayward child who hardly can be managed, who will fly into a tantrum if not carefully handled.

New Sausage Dishes

SAUSAGE and an apple rings combined make an appetizing and nourishing dish for the pineapple meal of the day.

To make this dish, Pare and core four apples. Cut in rings one half inch thick.

Parboil one pound sausage. Cut in slices about three fourths of an inch thick.

Put a layer of sausage in a lightly buttered baking dish. Cover with a layer of apple rings. Sprinkle with sugar and a dash of cinnamon.

Continue layer for layer until all is used. The last layer should be of apples. Bake about an hour in a moderate oven.

Always serve a tart simple salad with pork and let the desert be of fruit.

Household Hints

STEEL EMBROIDERY Steel embroidery sounds rather harsh but nevertheless it makes novel trimming for a suit of blue serge.
It is used only on the collar and belt but it gives distinction to the whole frock.

HOSIERY
Smart white silk hose are cross stitched in three colors in a very conventional design embroidered on the instep. For sports wear the embroidery is very colorful.

HAT BOXES
Hat boxes are now as much of a woman's traveling paraphernalia as her hand bag. These come round or square and will accommodate a number of hats. They are silk lined and arranged with pockets for carrying veils and small objects.

TWO TIERED
The two tiered skirt composed of double flounce of accordion plaited silk, is very popular now, particularly when worn with a blouse of paisley or printed silk.

CHANGEABLE ORGANDIE Changeable organdie makes some of the most demure summer frocks.
It needs no trimming, a large hat being the proper accompaniment.

CURRENT RED Current red is a popular new shade. It is particularly liked for beaded frocks and in palettes used on net. There is no doubt it is a dashing color.

Adventures Of
The Twins

Eena Meena—Magician

Now the Dream Seller lives at the fourth end of the earth but he sells good dreams only. When one wishes a wicked dream he goes to Eena Mena the magician who lives on a star.
He holds all sorts of dreams—makes em to order.

So Twelve Toes the Sorcerer designed a specially terrible dream changed himself into a bat and flew up to the star to old Eena Meena.

"Hello!" he said flying down Eena Meena's chimney to that person's astonishment and hanging upside down by his feet on the clothes line.
Where Eena Meena's dreams were driving in bags.

"Hello!" said the magician. "What a start you gave me. Twelve Toes!"
What can I do for you?"

"I want two dreams—wonderful ones," cried Twelve Toes. "I want em for a boy and a girl called Nick and Nancy who are giving me a lot of trouble. They are on their way to the palace of the Princess Thorma who lives between the Kingdom of the Diddwevers and the Korkinots."

They carry a phonograph record given them by Longhead the wis-man. I don't want them to set there because when they do the prince will marry either the king of our country or the other and I want herself.

"I see—er—er!" grinned wicked old Eena Meena. "You want dreams that will make them lose their way."
Right o!" cried Twelve Toes.

They are asleep now in the lovelly valley between the Electric Mountain and the Fiddle-down Mountain and they will start over the Elder down mountain at daybreak. They have so much magic along. I'm afraid they'll get there."

"I'll help you," nodded Eena Meena going to his cupboard and taking down bottles cups and measuring glassess.

Then he went down cellar and after a while returned with all sorts of queer things.

"I've got everything now but seven green feathers from seven green parrots," he said. "I'll find them in my barnyard."

CHINTZ IS SMART

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

When chintz of attractive color fine mouss and soft velvet ribbon are put together they of themselves establish a smartness of effect that is delightful. But when a jaunty kimono blouse and a plaited skirt make the silhouette then fashions perfection is evident.

This model has enough value in color fabric and silhouette to be quite sufficient but one can add to this. It launders easily and satisfactorily—a vital consideration for summer frocks. Chintz is an interesting fabric in its quaintness of design and its combination of colors.

Sometimes it is made up in a regular Pandora's Box of color yet so harmoniously done that it is a delight to see.

A plain kimono blouse with semi-loose carefully shaped sleeves as a pattern for the blouse while the skirt is of straight lengths of material and knife plaited to correspond with the waist measurement.

A fold of chintz in box plait effect center the blouse opening at the center back. The velvet bow and sash may be black or of a color to harmonize with the prominent color in the chintz.

LEARN A WORD
EVERY DAY

Today's word is IRONIC
It is pronounced —ironic with accent on the second syllable.

It means—characterized by a kind of humor or light sarcasm which adopts a mode of speech implying the opposite of the literal sense of the words. The distinguished quality of irony, says an eminent authority, "is that the meaning intended is contrary to that seemingly expressed one says one thing and means the 'opposite'."

It comes from Latin—ironia, meaning a dissimulation or concealment of real fact.

It is used like this—"To the persons who have criticized him for his efforts to keep down coal prices, describe the strike Secretary of Commerce Hoover has returned an ironic answer."

MAGAZINE SHOWS VIEWS OF VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Two pages of photographs of Appleton vocational school, announcing it as the first in the United States are contained in the June issue of Survey Graphic, an educational magazine. They illustrate an article by William Mather Lewis, chief of the educational service of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States entitled "The Nation's Needs and the Schools." The pictures show the exterior of the building and of several classrooms with pupils at work.
Mr. Lewis was in Appleton last winter while on a speaking tour and visited the vocational school. He was deeply impressed with the way Appleton was handling the education of employed boys and girls, and with the building equipment that were provided for this purpose. He describes some of his observations in this article.

New Riding Device

Among the new amusement devices at Waverly beach this summer will be a "seaplane" which will be ready for operation on Tuesday. It is a riding apparatus in which the vehicles resemble seaplanes and they swing out over the lake. A "French Review" will open an engagement in Waverly gardens Monday night.

Wholesome, Red-blooded Activity!

Health spurs you on to physical and mental happiness! What is better to see than the man or woman ready to battle with muscle or wits! Such people earn dividends of delight that are worth more than cold cash!

Children who are given nourishing food enjoy health that is a delight to look upon! Realize what health means as they get into the world's work!
Your judgment today may build your children into strong, courageous men and women—or weaklings! Think of your responsibility!

Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat

KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing whole-wheat flavor for the first time in food history—contain in exact proportions the necessary elements for proper body nourishment. Get away from devitalized, denatured foods that produce puny, undersized children; that keep men and women pale and unfit!

What children need, what men and women need, is KRUMBLES—builder of bone, muscle, red blood; builder of health! KRUMBLES sustain the aged as nothing else can! Your grocer

GOVERNMENT OF RUSSIA FEEDS 4 MILLION PEOPLE

Statistics Show That One Out of Every Twenty People Has Government Job

By Associated Press
Moscow—Over four million and a half people, exclusive of the Red army and navy, draw their living direct from governmental sources in Russia and this in spite of the recent dismissal of 3,000,000 such employees. Nor do these figures cover the Ukraine with its 20,000,000 people, the Far Eastern Republic, with perhaps 10,000,000 and the governments of Trans-Caucasia, Belchistan and Turkestan. These statistics mean, says the newspaper, "Economic Life" that one out of every 20 persons in Russia has a government job, not counting soldiers and sailors. The new budget will reduce the number of governmental employees still further to 3,000,000.

Of the 4,571,000 still employed, the Supreme Economic Council, which operates a number of factories, pays 1,630,000. Railroads come next with 960,000 and the department of education has 420,000. In the State Political Police there are 105,000 and in the uniformed police 140,000.

The 5,000,000 recently discharged, deprived of government salaries, have had to turn to the open markets to secure their sustenance.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS IN OLD HOTEL BUILDING

Extensive improvements are being made to the interior of the former Commercial hotel building which is being converted into a restaurant and lunch room by its new owners, Charles M. Hone and John Young of Oshkosh. An addition to the rear, which has just been completed, will be used as a kitchen. A new doorway has been cut through the east wall close to College ave., and the old doorway are to be bricked up. The outside stairway which formerly faced the rear of the building now faces College ave. The second floor is being fitted up into lodging rooms for transients.

The Best Food We Have

A quart a day for every child, if possible, a pint without fail; a third of a quart for each adult. Plenty of milk will help give all your children, big and little, the chance for health they ought to have. Buy more milk and your family will be better fed.

Milk helps your children to grow. Besides being a good all-around food, milk has something special in it that makes children grow. This something is found in some other foods, but not in such large amounts as in milk. Give your boys and girls milk for their chance to grow.

Milk helps your children to keep well. It would help keep you well, too. Look at children who do not get milk, but get tea and coffee instead. Aren't most of them pale and sickly? There are always very many sick children in cities and in countries where milk is scarce. When milk prices go up and mothers begin to economize on milk, more children become sick. Do not let your children run this risk. Give them pure, clean milk and help them to grow up strong and well and win in their fight disease. Save on other things if you must, but not on milk, your child's best food.

Milk Gives Your Children Lime and other salts which they need. There must be plenty of lime in their food, for a great deal of it is needed for their bones and teeth, and a little for their blood and all other parts of their bodies. Right food, not drugs, is what children need. Big boys and girls and grown people, as well as children, need lime, because the bones are constantly wearing away little by little and must be replaced.

Milk is the chief food for lime. It is much richer in it than other common foods. These lines stand for lime, the top one for the lime in a cup of milk, the other for the lime in a serving of some other foods. Notice how much more there is in milk than in the others.

Amount of Lime in

1 cup of milk
1/2 cup carrots
1 egg
2 slices of bread.

Milk is the cheapest food for lime. Buy milk. You and your children need its lime.

Milk Gives Your Children the Body-Building Protein, one of the materials from which their bodies are made. Milk is like eggs and meat in this. This body-building substance, the protein, of milk is not new to you, for curd is milk protein. Cottage cheese is curd separated out from milk. When we drink milk or eat cheese we give our bodies proteins which are changed and become part of our muscles, blood, and other parts of the body. The milk protein is good for everybody and especially good for children. They need a great deal of it because their bodies grow so fast.

Milk Gives Your Children Fuel to burn in their bodies. They need the fuel to keep them warm and to help them run and play and work, much as an automobile needs gasoline or a steam engine needs coal. They are so active that they need more fuel for their size than grown people do. The fat and the milk sugar and part of the protein in the milk all burn up as fuel.

Milk is much cheaper fuel than meat. A quart gives the same amount of fuel as a whole pound of lean meat or as eight eggs. Think of the cost! Isn't the milk far the cheapest? Still less expensive fuel is a bowl of bread and milk or corn meal mush and milk.

Skim Milk is Good Food. It has the lime and protein and sugar of the whole milk. Use it, but use whole milk, too. Skim milk lacks fat and has not so much of the growth substances as has whole milk.

Milk Should Not Be the Only Food for Children, of course. They need vegetables, fruits, and cereals. But even the bigger boys and girls should have milk. Milk is good for grown people, too. They still need the lime and protein and its other substances. Don't think of it only as a refreshing drink, but as a god, nourishing food.

Be Sure Your Milk Is Clean and Fresh. If you live in the city, buy it pasteurized from a clean dairy. In the country see that your cows and milkers are clean and healthy. Keep your milk clean, cold and covered—U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

WHEN MEAT MEETS MEAT

When good meat and poor meat is brought together and tested for tenderness, flavor and keeping qualities, that is when good meat comes in to its own. Warm weather has proven this fact time and time again.

Have you ever had that disappointed feeling of finding your meat spoiled just as you were getting it ready to serve?

Good meat will last and keep much longer than other meats in warm weather.

BEGIN NEGOTIATION FOR PURCHASE OF BRANDT CLUB

GROUP OF MEN HERE READY TO BUY PROPERTY

Plan of Organizing Stock Company Apparently Meets With Favor

Conferences were to be held today by August Brandt owner of the Appleton team of the Fox River Valley League. E. W. Grogan, personal representative of President John Kluiwink of the league, and representatives of a group of Appleton businessmen, relative to taking over the local valley league franchise. League directors at their meeting in Fond du Lac last Wednesday ordered Mr. Brandt to relinquish control of the team.

Preliminary plans for organizing a corporation to operate the team were discussed on Thursday but no definite action could be taken because Mr. Brandt was out of the city and several of the men interested in the proposed new ownership were unable to attend the gathering. Several plans were discussed. One which seemed to meet with favor was to have a small group of men purchase the Brandt ball property, incorporate and then sell their holdings in the form of shares in the corporation to fans of Appleton. This plan, it is said, will give every local fan an opportunity to be a stockholder in the club and will make it something of a community venture. Names of the men who are interested in the new venture will be made public later.

Directors and officers would be elected by the shareholders and in all probability a manager would be engaged who would have almost complete charge of the team so far as obtaining players and directing play is concerned.

Businessmen interested in this venture agreed that no large profit can be or should be made from the baseball team. They look on it as a community venture and if the stock earns a small dividend well and good and if it doesn't there won't be any complaint.

Mr. Brandt will have charge of the team on Sunday when it plays Kaukauna here. By the following Sunday it is believed the new owners will be in control. There is every assurance that the franchise will be left in Appleton in spite of the earnest desire of Manitowish and Sheboygan to get in the league.

The Lake shore cities have been attempting to play independent ball this season with poor success. Nearly every worthwhile team in the state is in a league with regularly scheduled games and it is almost impossible for the independent teams to obtain contests for Sunday and holidays.

League baseball in this state has developed to the point where independent ball is out of the question.

Comiskey Outdoes McGraw

JOHN MCGRAW (UPPER) AND CHARLEY COMISKEY

BY BILLY EVANS

Charles Comiskey refuses to be outdone by John J. McGraw. Last fall the manager of the New York Giants created a sensation in baseball circles by announcing the purchase of First Baseman Jimmy O'Connell of the San Francisco club for $75,000.

It was the highest price ever paid for a minor league ball player. Immediately O'Connell became the most talked about individual in the game.

While O'Connell first won fame as a first sacker, in all probability he will be used in the outfield by McGraw.

Now, just as the edge has died off the O'Connell deal, the White Sox owner goes McGraw twenty-five thousand simoleons better.

The Chicago club has just completed a deal with the San Francisco club for Third Baseman Willie Kamm for a price said to be $100,000.

It is a rather strange coincidence that these two high-priced athletes should hail from the same minor league club, San Francisco.

The native sons of California perhaps give the old climate the credit.

CAN THEY MAKE GOOD?

What will the harvest be from this fabulous outlay of money on the part of the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox?

Will O'Connell and Kamm be able to make good on all the nice things that have been said about their diamond ability?

Will the fancy prices that have been paid for the two youngsters, coupled with the widespread publicity, affect their play?

FONDY CARDINALS GET NEW PLAYER

Fond du Lac—"Red" Nelson, star shortstop on the Racine baseball team, will report for duty with the Cardinals this week. J. B. Perkins of the local club announced today.

Perkins and Sanders were in Madison yesterday and attempted to sign Peterson, the shortstop on the French Battery team. Peterson, however, likes his job at Madison too well to move here. An attempt was also made by the local moguls to sign "Rowdy" Elliott, shortstop on the University of Wisconsin nine and an All-American selection. Elliott could not be located.

Peterson has strong word that he will be on the job this week and is expected to play against Green Bay Sunday. He has played with Racine teams in this city on one or two occasions last season and made quite a hit. O'Leary has not been officially released as yet, although if Peterson comes here, the Ripon lad will probably be dropped from the Cardinal payroll.

HOLD PRELIMS FOR STAG FIELD MEET

Chicago—With 300 athletes representing 54 institutions here for the second annual track and field meet of the National Collegiate athletic association Saturday afternoon, competition is expected to be the keenest Stag Field has ever witnessed. Preliminaries are being held Friday.

In the quarter mile trials Friday, Fessenden of Illinois, O'Leary of Kansas, Spetz of Wisconsin and Pyott of Chicago have the best chances of winning first prizes.

In the half mile, Yates of Illinois, Harrison of Purdue and Wall of Wisconsin, are the starters from the big ten conference.

Time alone will tell. The other day a prominent minor league manager showed me a letter that he received from Jimmy Byrnes, former catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics and now scout on the Pacific coast for Connie Mack.

"This fellow O'Connell is a great ball player," writes Byrnes, "he can do everything well."

"McGraw made no mistake in landing him regardless of the price paid," O'Connell can hit, field, throw and run.

"You will laugh when I call him a second Ty Cobb. There have been a lot of second Ty Cobbs and most of them have 'flivvered'."

"This fellow O'Connell will make good beyond a doubt. He will remind you of Cobb in many ways."

That makes it look pretty good for O'Connell.

Recently I have been paired up with Umpire George Hildebrand, a native son of California, who calls San Francisco home. When the sale of Kamm to the White Sox was announced, I asked him what about Kamm's chances.

WONDERFUL HANDS

"Kamm is a great ball player," replied Hildebrand, "he will make good. He has a great pair of hands. When he goes after a ground ball, no matter how difficult it is, you are never surprised when he gets it. The only surprise possible is when he doesn't get it. He is one of the surest men on ground balls I have ever seen. Has a wonderful pair of hands."

All of which makes it seem that neither McGraw nor Comiskey erred in their purchase.

WESTERN LAD BEATS COLLEGE ATHLETES

The University of California won the intercollegiate championship mainly through the strength of their men in the field events.

But the records of these young giants who carried back the glittering prizes is "nothin' to brag about" when it comes to the little school boys of the Sunkist Land.

Recently, in Chicago, Clarence Houser of the Oxnard High School, Santa Barbara, Cal., pushed the 12 pound shot for a goal of 56 feet. This was three inches farther than Artie McKeen's record of 10 years' standing.

The best neighboring college athlete strong men could show in the intercollegiate was 48 feet 10 1/2 inches. Houser holds scholastic and club records on the coast regardless of the fact that he is even smaller than the great weight shover, Jack Merchant, and as yet he is only 18 years old.

At Berkeley, Cal., last year, Houser broke three coast records in one afternoon, these being 52 feet for the junior shot, 45 feet 5 inches for the 16-pound pill and 135 feet for the discus.

Houser first sprang into fame by defeating the famous Olympic weight man, Pat McDonald. He became the national title holder with a heave of 46 feet 11 1/2 inches.

Houser will no doubt set records that will be of long standing when he enters college. It is said he will attend Dartmouth, as Harry Hillman and others have been watching him very carefully.

Los Angeles—Jack Kearns announced that Jack Dempsey might meet Jess Willard next labor day.

Bohannan, W. Va.—Clarence Smith, right fielder for the Michigan Aggies broke his leg while sliding in a game with Bethany college.

New York—Tex Rickard expressed doubt on Jack Dempsey's willingness to meet Harry Willis and said if Dempsey fights under his promotion it will be on a percentage basis.

HORTONVILLE AND DALE WILL CLASH IN BOOSTER GAME

Many Enthusiastic Fans Will Witness Biggest Game of Season

What probably will be the most exciting game of the Outagamie County League will be played at Hortonville Sunday when the Hortonville team meets their age long rivals from Dale. It has been made the booster game of the season and the fans from both towns will turn out in numbers to boost for their favorites. Hortonville fans will be supported in their rooting by the village band and if the weather man is at all kind a record crowd will attend the battle, for such it will surely be.

Whipped into fine shape by practice every night this week, the Hortonville aggregation will be a formidable opponent for the Dale team. Not content with evening practice, some of the men who have the time have been getting some practice during the afternoons. Apparently they are willing to go the limit in their efforts to down their ancient rivals.

The lineup will be the same as that which defeated the strong Interlake team last Sunday. Rummel, the southpaw pitcher, and Hoier the veteran catcher, will be the battery and will try to duplicate the good work of last Sunday's game in which they held their opponents to six hits. Dabreiner, the slugging garage man will cover first base while second and third will be taken care of by the hard hitting Diestler boys, Wally and Art. Wilbur Diestler will do his stunt at shortstop.

Pair warning is given to the Dale outfit that any balls hit into the outfield will have small chance of getting by, for the outer gardens will be well covered by M. Collar, Knutzen and Dabreiner. Rogers and Collar are fielders of no small ability who have been playing with the Hortonville team for some time. Knutzen, the telephone manager at Hortonville, is playing his first season with the team. He formerly played with an Appleton team.

HOW LANDIS GOT A NEW STRAW BONNET

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

Importance of First Base

BY BILLY EVANS

From a position once considered very easy to play, first base has gradually come to be one of the most important cogs on defense.

In the last 20 years, no position in baseball has undergone more changes in the way it should be played than first base.

Once regarded as merely a position at which to receive throws and touch first base, the position in the modern game has now become one of the utmost importance.

At one time the big slow moving player was the type regarded as best suited to first base. The first baseman in those days was supposed to cover little or no territory. As a matter of fact, it was customary with many of the old time first basemen to always play the base the same way, regardless of conditions, by merely standing with one foot always on the bag.

It is impossible to tell the exact position a first baseman should assume at start of play. The speed of the player, and the reputation of the batter are always given consideration by the major league first basemen.

However, it is fairly correct to say that a good position to assume would be from 15 to 20 feet away from first base and about 10 feet behind a direct line drawn between first and second.

Some first basemen are equally good going to their right or left after ground balls. Others have a weakness. If so, they must favor that weakness.

Thus if a player is strong on balls hit to his right, but slow getting started on balls to his left, it is wise for him to protect himself by playing a trifle closer to first than is customary, knowing he can move fast in the direction of second.

NEENAH TO HAVE NEW ATHLETIC GROUNDS

Neenah—An athletic field, replete with tennis courts, baseball diamond, football field and all equipment generally found in a field of this nature, and one that in winter could be readily converted into a public ice skating rink, was assured for Neenah in Columbus park.

The action came following reading of a communication from A. C. Denny, athletic director of the Neenah high school, which suggested such a project. A sketch of the proposed field was also submitted. According to Mr. Denny's suggestions, which were unqualifiedly adopted, the field will be for the public of Neenah, and during the school year will be used as a school athletic field. This will include football games and inter-school track meets with high schools of other cities.

It is estimated the undertaking, which was adopted by unanimous vote of the council, will cost in the neighborhood of $1,500. The matter was put in the hands of the committee on parks and public buildings, and the park commission, to have full control. Work will probably be started at once.

Fondy Makes Fine Offer To Kaukauna

The splendid spirit of good sportsmanship and fellowship which apparently exists among the teams of the Fox River Valley league was splendidly exemplified by Manager Sanders of the Fond du Lac team on Wednesday when he offered to take his team to Kaukauna on any week day, at his own expense, to help the Kaukauna club pay for its grandstand which was wrecked by the flood last Saturday. Mr. Sanders said he would be glad to make that contribution to the Kaukauna club.

Kaukauna people sincerely appreciate his offer but it is not known whether the game will be played. The fans have cooperated to rebuild the park and the expense will not be so very great because much of the labor has been donated.

LEONARD TO BOX TENDLER JULY 27

New York—Bennie Leonard will defend his title against Lew Tandler in a twelve round bout at Jersey City on Thursday, July 27, and on July 28, as originally planned in tentative agreements a week ago. Billy Gibson and Phil Glassman, the men's managers, met Tex Rickard on Wednesday, who will promote the bout, and formally signed the articles. Each boxer then posted a certified check for $15,000 for weight and appearance.

ST. LOUIS WINS ON FREAK HOME RUNS

Unusual Drive by McManus Brings in Tying and Winning Runs for Browns

St. Louis—The Browns went into half a game of first place on Thursday by defeating Washington 3 to 2 and by virtue of Detroit's 2 to 1 victory over New York. The game was won by a peculiar home run by McManus in the fourth with Sieler on base. McManus drove the ball into deep left field, and taking an unusual bounce, the ball leaped the fence. Smith of Washington also knocked a homer. Davis showed unusual control, not walking a man. Ordinarily he passes one or more. Score: St. Louis 3, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0—3 5 0. Washington 0, 0, 0, 2, 0, 0, 0—2 5 0. Batteries: Madridge, Brillhart and Pleinich; Davis and Severid.

YANKS LOSE 2-1

Detroit—Detroit was helpless before Mays for seven innings on Thursday but rallied in the eighth and scored two runs to beat New York, 2-1. The Yankees obtained only four hits off Stoner and Daus. Umpire Hildebrand was escorted off the field under police protection after the game, when Yankee players surrounded him, because he called Scott out in the ninth for bunting foul on the third strike. The play retired the side with a runner on third. Score: New York 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0—1 4 0. Detroit 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 2—2 2 0. Batteries: Mays and Schang; Stoner, Daus, Bessler and Mahon.

WHITE SOX LOSE

Chicago—Philadelphia defeated Chicago, 1 to 0, on Thursday, breaking the winning streak of the locals, who had won six consecutive games. Falk and Johnson got their signals crossed on a pop fly to left by Dykes and the ball fell safe, filling the bases with one out. This paved the way for the Athletics' victory, as Hauser, a punch hitter, singled to right, sending two runs home and putting the Athletics in the lead. Dykes cracked out his sixth homer of the season and Walker put one into the bleachers, bringing his total of homers to twelve. Score: Philadelphia 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 3—10 15 0. Chicago 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0—3 10 1. Batteries: Harris, Rommel, Eckert, Heilmach and Perkins; Leeverette Robertson and Schalk.

RED SOX WIN 8-3

Cleveland—Boston won the second game of the series from Cleveland, 8 to 3. After pitching brilliantly for six and two-thirds innings, Mails, who had not started a game for two months, weakened. Uhle took his place and the first two Boston batters to face him hit safely. Quinn was effective after the first few minutes. Score: Cleveland 1, 0, 0, 0, 1, 4, 0, 2—3 9 1. Boston 2, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0—8 11 0. Batteries: Quinn and Ruel; Mails, Uhle, Lindsey and O'Neill.

GIANTS WIN FROM PITTSBURG 4 TO 2

Second Victory Over Pirates Gives New York Six Straight

New York—The New York National League team won Thursday in a closely contested struggle, the world's champions winning their sixth consecutive victory. The score was 4 to 2. Ryan, the Holy Cross youngster, had better enduring qualities than Adams, the 40 year old veteran. Kelly's hitting was largely responsible for Adams' defeat. His tripple in the sixth drove in Young with the tying run and his double in the eighth sent in Messel and Young with the winning runs. Score: Pittsburgh 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0—2 3 0. New York 0, 0, 0, 1, 1, 0, 2—4 10 0. Batteries: Adams and Gooch; Ryan and Smith.

CARDS COP 10 INNING GAME

Brooklyn—St. Louis rallied in the eighth and ninth innings of Thursday's game with Brooklyn, tied a three-run lead and won 4 to 3 in the ninth. Stock's home run in the ninth with one on the paths tied the count. Score: St. Louis 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 2, 1—4 10 1. Brooklyn 0, 0, 0, 3, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0—3 10 2. Batteries: Barfoot, Sherdell and Clemens; Cadore and Taylor.

SMITH SHUTS OUT REDS

Philadelphia—George Smith blanked Cincinnati with six scattered hits, and Philadelphia on Thursday easily took the opening game of the series, 7 to 0. Score: Cincinnati 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0—0 6 2. Philadelphia 2, 0, 4, 0, 1, 0, 0, 0—7 10 1. Batteries: Gillispie, Keck and Wingo; G. Smith and Peters.

LEGION TEAMS WILL PLAY AT JONES PARK

First and Second Ward Nines Clash in Their Initial Contest of Season

The game between the First and Second ward teams of the American Legion's Twilight league, scheduled for Tuesday evening, will be played Friday evening in Jones park. Lothar Graef, manager of the First warders, reports that about twenty-five have answered the call and he is confident that a fast team can be picked from the squad.

Roy Hauer, who is piloting the Second ward outfit, has not had the same good luck in getting men out that Graef has but probably will have a team on deck that will make the First warders hustle.

Are you a "high pressure" man?

Men of high nervous energy—rapid thinking, active, dynamic, and men often described as having "no nerves"—less rapid, but not less sure in thought and action, usually have different tastes in cigars. Mozart cigar is made especially for men of the first type. Such men usually find that "mild" tobaccos give them greatest enjoyment and no sensation of over smoking, just as moderation in meat eating brings them the best results. Mozart with its truly mild Havana fragrance is admirably suited to the energetic man—to the man who works at high pressure. We invite him to try Mozarts for a week—and watch.

LIQUOR ON SHIPS
UP TO CONGRESS

aboard and American ships would lose much business. The matter comes up in congress, Pacific coast members who are present active in trying to get a ship subsidy bill through will find themselves confronted by a practical situation which has little to do with the merits of prohibition.

The truth is that many of the spokesmen for the prohibition movement have the law on their side in the present controversy and that an American ship outside the three mile limit is not subject to the enforcement of the prohibition laws or any other statutes of the United States except those which apply to the registry of ships.

QUESTION OF U. S. TERRITORY
The shipping board points out that if an American ship is American territory it would be immune from seizure during war when the United States was neutral. As a matter of fact the United States in the famous controversy with Great Britain during the civil war asserted the right to send a British ship and remove cargo.

But congress will not wait for a decision on these points. It has the power to refuse funds to American ships which carry liquor. Such a prohibition is constitutional. So the fight will be waged on that phase of the question and unless the defenders of the present practice succeed in convincing congress that serious damage would be done the merchants would be attempting to extend prohibition to the seas, some provisions will surely be written into law forbidding any vessels, American or foreign from touching American ports if liquor is carried.

MODERN BASEBALL
FANS WANT ACTION AND MANY HOMERS

Major Games of Former Years

Were Pitchers' Battles—Shut Outs Numerous

By BILLY EVANS

The so-called lively ball is here to stay. Baseball thrives on action. The ball in use today supplies plenty of it.

Home runs are a daily occurrence in nearly every major league game. The fans like home runs.

The fact that Babe Ruth is the biggest drawing card in baseball because of his ability to hit home runs is proof positive of that fact.

Back 10 or 15 years ago a majority of the games in the majors were pitchers' battles. Shut-out games were numerous. When a team piled up a good-sized score it occasioned much surprise.

Fischer's battles have not become extinct. We still have quite a few of them. However, at the present time the batsman has the upper hand.

PRETTY GOOD EVIDENCE
The tremendous attendance of the past three years is pretty good evidence to offer in support of the popularity of the free hitting game.

The other day I had a very interesting talk with Harry Davis, now acting as a coach for Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics.

In his day as a first sacker Harry Davis was one of the best in the business. Incidentally Davis could hit the old pill. I have umpired many a tense ball game that was broken up through some long wallow by Harry Davis.

I asked him what he thought of the present-day game compared with the standards of 20 years ago.

I asked him also what he thought of the so-called lively ball.

And I asked him whether he preferred some small score pitchers' battle, such as was common in the old days, or a contest featured by more hitting.

I have always been willing to accept the fans' judgment when it comes to baseball," remarked Davis.

LOOK AT THE CROWDS
"Look at the crowds that are attending the games today. Think of the salary the players are getting. Why the stars of my day didn't get as much as the ordinary player of the present period."

That makes me feel that the style and standard of baseball as played today please the fans. That is the object of the game—to offer amusement that pleases the cash customer.

"They call the ball in use today a lively ball. I call it the best ball that was ever manufactured. Wish they used the same in my day instead of the rag balls then in use."

The major leagues are the last word in baseball. In the American and National leagues are to be found the cream of the baseball talent. In the majors it should be a survival of the fittest.

Owners of the Kansas City ball club have decorated Otto Knebe with the order of the American Legion. The veteran big leaguer fumbled out as a manager. The Knebes like any other club, want a winner and after a long search they found Otto Knebe. As yet no successor has been named. Whoever gets the post will have a job on his hands as the team appears to be badly disorganized.

Demorey and Bill Brennan are to fight again. Floyd Fitzsimmons, who is running the Michigan City, Ind. fight club, has booked the pair for a Labor Day fight. It is said that the champion will pull down $200,000 for the ten round affair. This is pretty good money considering the fact that Brennan will surely be soft pickin' for the title holder.

Harry Willis has officially thrown his hat in the ring for a bout with Dempsey. The negro heavyweight, who has been showing signs of class during the past year, has challenged the champion through the New York state boxing commission and incidentally deposited $25,000 in cash to back up his bet. Money talks and most likely one of these days Knebes will buy into the limelight with the acceptance of the challenge, and then ask about $250,000 for putting Jack into the ring against the tar baby.

The Winks and Browns broke even in the first "national" series of the American league race as the teams split four games. The New York Yankees scored the opening pair but St. Louis walked off with the final two. If Huggins' crew can continue to hold their ground against St. Louis they will probably not share of the world series money. There is little hope for Huggins' team and the next series, which will be staged in New York promises to furnish a lot of thrills.

The Black Sox tangle has given the Fox River valley league a lot of publicity which probably would never have been gained otherwise. Papers all over the middle west have played up the story about the appearance of George and Risberg with the Appleton club. It is notorious that could well be afforded to be passed up because it tends to give the organization a black eye.

AN EXPERIMENT IN BURGLARY

By H. Hobart Nichols

COPYRIGHT BY THE S. S. McCURE COMPANY. PUBLISHED BY ARRANGEMENT WITH THE LITERARY DIGEST NEWSPAPER SYNDICATE.

I put aside my morning paper as the breakfast bell rang.

"Well, dear, what is the news?" I inquired my wife when we were seated at the table.

"Nothing very startling," I replied, "except that the burglars were at it again last night; the police think they are an organized gang, and not local thieves."

Washington had been the scene, for a fortnight past, of a scene of daring robberies. The police were mystified and seemed to be unable to get the slightest clew to their movements.

"I think, my dear," I continued, "that we had better put our silver in a safe deposit until these fellows let up, for it seems they are too much up for the authorities; I should not like to lose it, and the

BROKERAGE FIRM FILES DEMURRER IN SIMON CO. CASE

J. F. Hovorka & Co. Says Complaint Contains Insufficient Evidence

A demurrer has been filed by J. F. Hovorka & Co., a Milwaukee brokerage concern, through their attorneys, Quarle, Spencer & Quarle, in the case of William Lemke, Grain Manufacturing Co., John Haug & Son and Martin Turkow against the N. Simon Cheese Co. together with its creditors and stockholders. The complaint was directed against the cheese company, J. H. Kerr, N. L. Simon, C. L. Simon, Marie Thompson nee Simon, E. A. Burton, Herbert Kieckhefer, James N. Fogarty, First National Bank of Appleton and J. F. Hovorka & Co. and asked for cancellation of certain stocks.

J. F. Hovorka & Co. sold a number of stocks for the N. Simon Cheese Co. and has a claim against the company for unpaid commission. William Lemke and the other petitioners for receivership asserted that the brokerage company had money from the cheese company that should have been paid by N. Simon personally in discharge of his own promises.

Attorneys for the brokerage company state the complaint is not sufficient evidence to constitute a cause of action and that it is improper until several causes of action. The defect on the face of the allegations made is in favor of the N. Simon Cheese Co., the attorneys say.

AT GROUP SESSIONS OF AD CONVENTION

More Than 20 Appleton Businessmen Attend Milwaukee Conferences

Group conferences of the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World in Milwaukee this week proved perhaps the most interesting and helpful feature to more than 20 Appleton persons who attended sessions for one day or more.

Particular lines of business which have to do with advertising in some form or other held virtually their own conventions with the biggest gatherings, with exhibits in charge. These included the newspaper, direct advertising, publishing, commercial organization, retailing and other groups.

Some of the Appleton men not mentioned before who attended for a day or more were J. D. Steele, H. L. Dawson, John Mullen, H. A. Young, E. C. Colvin, J. L. Shipley, M. J. McDonald, J. D. Branstetter, Paul O. Nyhus, Hugh G. Corbett, and E. C. Kraemer of Neenah. Members of Appleton Advertising Club were conspicuous in the crowds with their orange caps which were worn during the convention.

MODERN SHIPS HAVE NEED FOR GARDENERS

London—That seafaring is an exciting occupation is indicated by a story told of the recent departure for America of a great new liner, equipped with everything from a swimming pool to palm gardens.

The captain ascending the gangway met a venerable unknown man wearing the company's uniform and cap. The captain questioned the stranger as to whether he was a member of the ship's company, and received an affirmative answer.

"What's your rating?" queried the captain.

"Please sir, I'm the ship's gardener," was the reply.

RUSSIANS USE PLANES TO FIGHT LOCUST PESTS

Baku, Soviet Republic of Azerbaijan—Forty airplanes equipped with poisonous gas bombs will be used to fight the swarms of locusts which are descending upon the crops of this district. The insects came from Persia.

The bombs will be dropped into the swamps and other breeding places; upon exploding they will diffuse suffocating gases. The experiment will cost the Moscow government $,000,000,000 Soviet rubles, or as a local humorist has said, one ruble for each locust.

TO DREDGE TREASURES FROM RIVER BOTTOM

Penetanguishene, Ontario—The treasure seeking dredge Baltic started off Thursday to begin digging away the silt on the bottom of the Wyre River to what is believed to be the resting place for 300 years of an iron chest holding golden artifacts and documents relating to the early struggles of Jesuit Missionaries among the Huron Indians in what was then New France.

Improve Courts

Resurfacing of the tennis court at the Y. M. C. A. with clay is under way this week. The land is being surveyed to ascertain exact levels, the ground around the edges of the courts also is being filled in. It is expected that the playing surface will be much improved by this treatment.

Freight Rush

A large amount of freight that was left during the storm last week is arriving at the local depots. Railroad employees and draymen have been busy unloading and delivering it. It is expected the rush will be over by the end of the week.

Lady Greenwood

Lady Greenwood, wife of Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary to Ireland, is recognized—unofficially—as one of the most interesting and influential personalities in the Irish tangle.

Rounds Out 68 Years As Church Goer

Mrs. Anna M. Proctor, 663 Durkee st., was honored by the First Congregational church in the May-June issue of its publication, "Our Church," for being the oldest member of the congregation.

Mrs. Proctor, who is 66 years old, rounded out her sixty-eighth year as a member April 30, the article says. A picture taken 53 years ago when Mrs. Proctor was 27 years old accompanies the article. She wore skirts touching the floor at that time and with a lot more cloth in them than young ladies of that age wear nowadays.

A barn raising "bee" attended by nearly 100 men was held Thursday on the farm of Louis Huebner in the town of Greenville. Mr. Huebner is erecting a structure 36 by 105 feet, in dimensions with basement. It is designed especially for live stock and the basement will be equipped with all the latest stable equipment.

NINETY-THREE NEW FREE BAKING RECIPES

Can you make good pie crust? Very few people can. Are you a good enough cook to make the kind of corn bread for which the South is famous? Have you ever tried to make Boston brown bread? There isn't any trick in making these things perfectly. The Department of Agriculture has published a booklet which makes it possible for anyone. It sets forth the right way to make practically every pastry and bread.

This invaluable baking book is a free Government publication, and our Washington Bureau will secure a copy for anyone who sends two cents in stamps for return postage. In filling out the coupon be sure to write your name and address clearly on the lines.

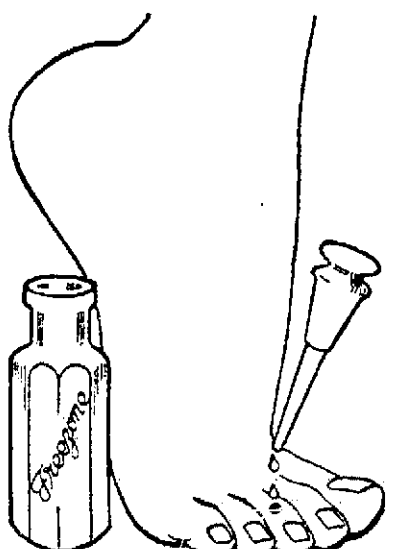

Frederic J. Haskin, Director,
The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the Baking Booklet.

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

INVITE C. OF C. TO WATERWAY DINNER

Maj. F. S. Skinner, Government Engineer, Will Deliver Address at Green Bay

Appleton Chamber of Commerce members are extended an invitation by J. M. Conway, secretary of the Great Lakes-Ocean Waterway association, Green Bay, to attend a dinner June 27 at that city to hear an address by Major F. S. Skinner, United States district engineer.

Major Skinner will speak on the St. Lawrence waterway and improvement of existing facilities, presenting the government's viewpoint on these problems and many additional facts of local interest. The plan is to have all persons of the Fox River Valley interested in the project to hear the talk.

Reservations are to be made by June 20 for the dinner, which is to be served at Bay Beach pavilion at 6:30 in the evening. Secretary Hugh G. Corbett of the chamber of commerce will send in reservations for any Appleton people who wish to go.

BOY ASSAULT OF GIRL PURSUED BY ANGRY MOB

By Associated Press
Escanaba.—The sheriff and deputies of Delta county, Michigan, saved Anthony Doure, age 17, from mob violence Thursday morning by arresting the youth before the mob had reached the village of Shafer.

Doure who is a paroled prisoner from Michigan penal institute, is alleged to have attacked an eleven year old girl while she was on her way to church Thursday morning.

News That Will Hurry You Here! ALL COLORED HATS Half Price

Regular Values—$8. to $25. Now $4. to $12.50
SATURDAY is one of the biggest days of the summer season in the Millinery Section. Such a reduction comes only once or twice a year—and applies on every one of our exclusive hats. The sale brings every hat in the stock at HALF PRICE, excepting black, white and colored sport hats. There are SEVENTY-FIVE of these exquisite hats—all beautifully made and trimmed. They were formerly priced from $8. to $25.—Saturday's Prices have cut the former figures in half—$4. to $12.50. This means EVERY HAT—none are reserved.

Styles For Every Wearer

Such a large stock of course includes a hat for any and every woman. There are matronly shapes and colors for the older woman while the flapper will delight in the smart youthful styles and shades included. There are trimmings of ribbons and flowers, others have feathers and odd and unusual ornaments. Both small and large shapes may be had, in all the best summer stylings. The fact that there is such a variety makes this sale DOUBLY WORTH WHILE.

Full Variety of Summer Shades

Brown, rose, tan, purple, periwinkle, green and yellow make a vivid collection of summer colors. These hats were designed for dress wearing, and while they feature the gayest of the season shades, each hat is dignified and beautiful enough for any use.

The sale starts tomorrow morning at NINE O'CLOCK—Hats from $8. to $25. are reduced to $4. to $12.50.

Graceful New Summer Frocks of Fine Dotted Voiles at $10. $12. $15.

Summer brings many days so warm that one doesn't care to dress in an elaborate silk gown. For these occasions we have just received a large assortment of very becoming dotted voile gowns. All of the style effects of silk dresses have been used in the making of these voile frocks, and the result is charming.

The materials are very fine—a firm weave with tiny white dots that may be depended upon. The workmanship and trimmings are of the same superior quality as the fabric.

The Trimmings Are Interesting

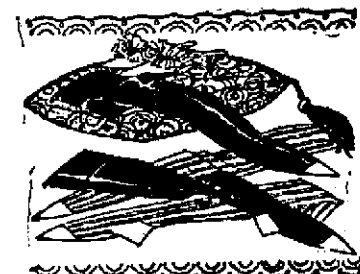

One thing that really makes these dresses so very desirable on first sight are the effective trimmings. Many have the graceful floating skirt panels, with bindings of silk ribbon or plain colored voile or organdy. Others have pretty lingerie vests and collars of net and lace. Still others have long roll collars of organdy, with fluted ruffles. Fancy buttons are frequently used to complete the picture. There are dresses for the older and larger woman as well as light airy things for the miss.

Prices Are Modest

At these three low prices there is a really surprising range of colors. One may choose from shades of brown, navy, porcelain blue, red, green, rose and black—with white dots. Usually the dots are those tiny ones, but occasionally there are large dots or printed patterns.

There is a satisfying variety of styles in this collection. They are extra values at $10., $12. and $15. The collection is large but we urge Saturday shopping for complete selections.

All-Silk Lace Clocked Hose—$3.69

This is a bargain we picked up on the market last week! Imagine a pure silk hose of extra heavy weight and fine quality with a lovely assortment of patterns in lace clocks.

They come in black, grey, fawn, beige and white. The quality is the same that we have been selling for $5.—the bargain price is $3.69.

White Hose—$3.69

Another extra value in summer hosiery—white lace stockings with handdrawn clocks. The clocks have a contrasting touch of bright color that is very smart.

All sizes are shown at the bargain price of only $3.69.

Sport Hose—$1.75

Phoenix sport hose are shown in good quality silk with patterns of novelty stripes. They come in beige, polo, grey, brown and black. The striped designs are considered very good. $1.75 a pair.

—First Floor
